VOLCANO SPREADS WILD TERROR

15 YEARS IN PRISON FOR MORSE 'WIZARD OF WALL STREET'

High Financier Sentenced to Long Term at Hard Labor, Fellow Banker Is Released Under Suspension of Sentence.

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles W. Morse, convicted of misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of North America and making false entries on its books, was to-day sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga, by Judge Hough, sitting in the United States Circuit Court.

Alfred H. Curtis, president of the National Bank of North America, convicted jointly with Morse, but the recipient of a recommendation for mercy from the jury, was sentenced to five years, and then sentence was suspended and he was allowed to leave the courtroom—a free man.

The scene in the courtroom was one of the most dramatic that has ever occurred in New York city. A crowd of men and women filled every seat and stood up three deep in the rear. Morse and Curtis sat in seats where the jury only last evening had spoken their guilt. Mrs. Morse and Morse's two sons were in one corner of the room. Mrs. Curtis, a nervous wreck, was in another corner.

Plead for Prisoners.

Attorney William M. K. Olcott made an eloquent appeal for Curtis, and then suddenly produced a petition asking for clemency for Curtis and signed by the presidents and vice-presidents of every big financial institution in the city.

In the midst of this appeal for her husband, Mrs. Curtis burst into hysterical sobs and had to be led from the room through the jammed crowd by the friends who have attended her all during the trial. Then Attorney McFarlane made an appeal for clemency for Morse. At the conclusion of the lawyer's words there was a dead silence in the court room.

Judge Hough, in imposing sentence, said:

"After careful consideration, which was entirely in accord with my views, together with the position taken by the District Attorney, I feel that the ends of justice can be best served without inflicting a prison term on the defendant Curtis.

"I do not believe and the evidence does not show that Curtis embarked on the illegal transactions with the intent of benefit to himself. He made his false step when he became subject to the master mind of his employer. He knew his acts were wrong, but he was unable to break himself of the master hold. His feeble efforts to reform met with little consideration at the hands of a supine board of directors. He continued in the illegal path, hoping against hope that the end would come and that the bank would not suffer. He has met total financial ruin through the collapse of the bank.

Suspend Five-Year Sentence.

"The evidence shows that his personal honesty has not been shaken, and I take this opportunity to declare my confidence in him. I think that justice will be well served by sentencing you to five years and suspending the said sentence."

Turning to Morse, Judge Hough said:

"The evidence showed that you, Morse, fathered an illegal scheme to use the bank and the bank's funds for your own speculative purposes.

"If, by an adequate sentence repetition of your crimes are not prevented the public will be entirely at the mercy of any financial institution who cared to act as you did.

"I sentence you, Morse, to fifteen years in the Federal penitentiary."

Morse made a bold effort to appear cool, but, as through the latter days of the trial, it was impossible to conceal the nervousness which consumed him. His hands trembled, he repeatedly shoved his fingers through his hair, rapped his knuckles on a chair, and in other ways showed his worriment.

Neither he nor Curtis looked as if they had slept at all. They were much relieved when Marshal Henkel called at the Tombs as early as 8 o'clock and took them to court. They walked down through Centre street, but attracted no attention whatever. Few in the street at that time seemed to recognize either, and Morse was apparently very grateful for that.

Immediately after sentence had been pronounced on Morse his counsel asked for a writ of error on an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and on this got a ten days' stay of the execution of the sentence. Counsel then appealed for bail to be fixed so that Morse would not have to spend the interim in jail.

Balenti, Indian Football Star, Greatest of Kickers

Photograph shows Balenti in act of making one of his famous kicks. He is the player most feared by the Harvard team in to-morrow's game.

INDIANS ARE READY FOR A GREAT FIGHT

The most spectacular football team in the world, the Carlisle Indian School eleven descended on the Hub to-day, preparatory to a hand-to-hand scuffle on the gridiron with Harvard in the Stadium tomorrow. They did not come as in ye olden times, with tomahawk and scalping knife ready to wreak vengeance on the paleface, but still it was no peaceful errand they were on.

They came with all the war implements of the gridiron to use against Johnny Harvard's sturdy warriors, and they had no signs of worriment on their copper visages, for didn't they bury the Crimson last year to the tune of 23 to 15. This year they are ready to repeat the operation.

The wiry sons of the plains presented a formidable array of athletic development as they sauntered around the corridors of the Copley Square Hotel. Only the veterans of the team displayed the true stoical aspect that is traditional of the race, while the new members were as curious as school children at everything they saw and spent most of their time taking long walks and automobile rides to points of interest with all that rustic instinct of the veriest Rube in a big town out seeing the sights.

Clad in Natty Uniforms.

Clad in the natty military uniforms of the Carlisle Indian School, the Red Men looked every bit like young soldiers, except that their bronzed faces and high cheek bones told of their origin. Their straight black hair, thick and glossy, and snapping black eyes left no doubt that they were the real article. Nearly every tribe known on the American continent was represented in the twenty-two players that Coach Glen Warner brought with him to battle with the Crimson.

To see the Indians in repose and in action is a remarkable transformation. They went out in a sight-seeing auto this morning and had the time of their lives inspecting the crowded thoroughfares from the observing perambulator and attracted lots of attention.

"What's that? Part of the Japanese navy?" exclaimed some one who had not heard of the Indian invasion. They certainly gave the impression of some foreign body on a visit.

There is no trip the Indians take with greater delight than the one to the Hub annually. Not because they count on beating Harvard particularly, but they get great enjoyment investigating the many things of interest, as well as holding public attention themselves.

Coach Warner, the ex-Cornell player, who has had such great success in developing the Indians as a football team with his many years experience did not forecast any great victory for his charges over the Crimson to-morrow, but seemed satisfied that the Redmen would give a good account of themselves. He was willing to admit that the Indians looked good enough to him to play Harvard evenly with the chances of luck swaying the tide of battle.

"We will play the same team which faced the Navy last Saturday," said the head coach, "with the exception of Afraid-of-a-Bear at left guard, whose injured knee will keep him out of the game. Leroque will be in his place. This change should not hurt us to any great extent.

"The team will not go through any scrimmage practice before the contest and only drill in signal work will be indulged in. We hope to get some points on Harvard in the same way we did on the Navy by the goal kicking of Balenti, who is the equal of the greatest we ever had in that direction."

Playing Penn to a tie game and beating the Navy, which team tied Harvard, naturally make the Indians a favorite in the betting, and they hold the long end at odds of 10 to 8 with the chance takers. These figures are likely to remain the same right up to the beginning of the conflict.

Tonight the Indians will be the guests of Keith's Theatre, and after witnessing the vaudeville show go directly to their hotel and be under cover long before midnight.

Immediately after lunch to-morrow morning the team and substitutes will be conveyed to the locker building on Soldiers Field and their dress for the skirmish.

LUMBER PLANT BURNS; CITY IN FIRE DANGER

Cook Company's Buildings at Laconia, N. H., Destroyed by Fire.

LACONIA, N. H., Nov. 6.—Fanned by a heavy northwest wind, a fire which originated in the plant of the Cook Lumber Company, one of the leading industries of the city, at 12:30 to-day, burned four buildings, including what is known as the "old mill," and caused a loss of $50,000, as well as putting the city in a panic for fear a change in the wind would sweep the flames to the big plant of the Laconia Car Company. Aid was called for from Concord, N. H., forty miles away, but the appeal was later cancelled when it was found that the fire department could cope with the flames.

The fierce gale carried the sparks for long distance and valuable tenement property was menaced for a time, but the firemen were able to confine the fire to the Cook plant, which has a head office in Nashua.

TELEPHONE GIRL FOILED BOLD THIEVES

Parker House Robbers Made Desperate Attempt but Had to Flee.

Three robbers who strode into the main entrance of the Parker House and who attempted to overpower and rob Miss Florence Aymer, in charge of the telephone exchange in the hotel, are being hunted high and low to-day by the police of Boston.

Never was bolder robbery attempted in the history of Boston than that of last evening, when, at 9:30 o'clock, while the lobby of the hotel was full of guests, and porters and bellboys were hurrying hither and thither, the thieves entered the hotel and tried to rob the quick-witted young woman who managed to foil them.

Miss Aymer, who is in charge of the hotel telephone switchboards, and who receives the cash for the calls, was seated at her desk in the alcove, about twenty-five feet from the Tremont street entrance and twice that distance from School street.

Business had slackened somewhat, and the young woman saw a man approach from the School street entrance, and another almost the same instant from Tremont. Another entered by the Tremont street ladies' entrance.

Cried Out an Alarm.

The man who had entered from Tremont street walked quietly to where the young woman was sitting.

"I would like to get a——" he drawled, hesitatingly.

"Well, what would you like to get?" flashed the quick, alert girl.

Just then, hearing a slight noise, and glancing quickly to her right, Miss Aymer saw one of the other fellows thrusting his hand toward the cash drawer of her desk, which happened to be open.

At the same instant the third man, slipping behind her, tried to pinion her hands behind her back.

"Thieves! Robbers!" shrieked Miss Aymer at the top of her voice, knowing in an instant that a holdup was being attempted.

She whirled at the same moment, as the thieves paused in sudden alarm, and shoved the cash drawer in, closing it, and the thief was foiled.

Manager Fred M. Purmort and a dozen or more employes of the hotel and several guests started to rush toward the telephone office. At the same time the thieves, knowing that they had been foiled at their desperate game, dashed out of the hotel by the Tremont street door.

Inspectors Put on Case.

Fast as they could they ran, and several persons after them, who saw them take their course up Beacon street and over Beacon Hill. They were soon lost to view.

The case was not reported to the police authorities until to-day, and Inspectors Levi W. Burr and Walker A. Smith were put on the case to try to get some clew to the outlaws.

[illegible]mer said: "It was done so suddenly that I cannot give any description of the three men. I happened to notice that they all wore dark clothing and that the one who crept up on me from behind wore a dark cap. They were all young, but that is the only description which I can give. They were so bold that I almost lost my head at the very nerve of the thing, under the glare of all the electric lights and with people all around, though not in view for the moment."

Manager Purmort said: "I think that they were either thugs or dope fiends from the West End. There's a bad gang over there and I cannot figure out how any really experienced crooks would try such a desperate and foolhardy thing as this was. We haven't the slightest clew."

320 ELECTORAL VOTES NOW CREDITED TO TAFT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The probable electoral vote, with the returns from Missouri and Maryland not yet completed, now gives Taft 320 and Bryan 163. These figures credit Missouri's eighteen votes and one of Maryland's eight to Taft and seven from Maryland to Bryan.

Returns from Missouri, compiled early to-day, give Taft 317,123 votes and Bryan 312,889, a plurality for Taft of 4,235.

Hadley's plurality for Governor is 16,993.

Returns, almost complete, give Stone the Democratic senatorial nomination over Folk by 18,829.

The doubt as to the State ticket, other than Governor, is by no means removed.

According to the best information obtainable from Maryland, the proportionate numbers of Republican and Democratic electors will be determined by a division of Maryland's eight votes.

Half of the city of Baltimore and four of the twenty-three counties outside of the metropolis are still to be counted, but there is a strong indication that the State's electoral vote will be split, seven for Bryan and one for Taft. In any event, the margin of victory will be so small that the State is claimed by the leaders of both parties.

The official canvass of that part of the Baltimore vote covered showed a Taft gain of 167 and indicated a Taft State plurality of 1760.

Though the splitting of a State's electoral vote is unusual, it will be recalled that in 1904 Maryland chose one Republican and seven Democratic electors.

BUSINESS MAN HELD FOR THEFT

LEOMINSTER, Nov. 6.—Charged with selling worthless stock in a North Carolina gold mining concern, A. Lincoln Jobes, a prominent business man, is arraigned in police court to-day on complaint of Dr. W. R. Dunham of Keene, N. H. The complaint charges larceny of $1,000. Dr. Dunham asserts that he was induced to purchase stock in the gold mining proposition by Mr. Jobes and another man, and that the stock proved to be of no value.

THE INDIANS SEE BOSTON IN BIG AUTO CAR

Carlisle Football Team and Rooters Tour City Before Harvard Game.

Twenty-two Indians from the Carlisle Indian School, Carlisle, Pa., here to do battle on the gridiron to-morrow with Harvard's squad, "saw Boston" today on a big sightseeing automobile. Rather the braves were seen by Boston, for wherever the [illegible] pigskin kickers went they attracted much notice.

They were not in their football war paint. Every one of the bunch was clad in the blue uniform which Uncle Sam gives the Indian boys when they enter his school at Carlisle.

Head Coach Warner decided that his boys would be all the better for a trip around this historic old city, and he loaded them all on the auto at the Copley Square Hotel, where they are stopping. There was the cunning Balenti, whose goal kicks from field have sent the cold shivers down the backs of so many doughty elevens this year.

Then there were Afraid-of-a-Bear, Little Boy, Bird, Wasuka (the captain), Burrel, Newashe and all the rest of them. They saw everything there was to be seen. The stolidity of their American ancestors of the pre-Columbus period stood them in good stead, and they didn't deign to display any particular interest or enthusiasm in any of the Hub's marvels.

Besides the twenty-two warriors of the gridiron, Coach Warner included in his personally conducted tour the officials of the school.

"Are you here to win another game?" the coach was asked.

"We'll make a good try for it, anyway," was the evasive reply. "Our team is not quite so good as last week, as two of our men have been hurt."

Not For Summer Only

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is an all-the-year-round soap.

More P. & G. Naphtha Soap is used in summer than at any other time of year.

That is to be expected.

In the "dog days", when the mercury hangs 'round 90 in the shade for weeks at a time, a woman is glad to get hold of anything that will save time and labor.

So she buys a few cakes of P. & G. Naphtha Soap and is happy.

Please remember, however, that P. & G. Naphtha Soap does just as good work in January as in July.

It makes clothes as clean in December as in June; and it saves time, labor and fuel in the middle of winter as well as in the middle of summer. P. & G. Naphtha Soap is an all-the-year-round soap. The sooner you realize that, the better.

TUTTLE HITS MELLEN; EXPOSES STOCK RAID

HINTS NEW HAVEN PEOPLE ARE BEARING B. & M., ONLY TO SNAP IT UP.

In a remarkable statement made to-day by Lucius Tuttle, immediately following his re-election as president of the Boston & Maine railroad, Boston financiers believe they see reflected a touch of bitterness toward President Mellen and the New Haven interests for gobbling up his road.

In trying to offset the persistent rumors that Boston & Maine dividends are to be slashed, Mr. Tuttle gives these "interests" a hard slap, in the following words:

> "Someone has been very active of late in seeking to depreciate the price of Boston & Maine shares, for the evident purpose of acquiring cheap stock. Many New England stockholders have been approached by emissaries of this interest, who have been scattering broadcast the seed of suspicion and telling stockholders, large and small, that the Boston & Maine dividend must be reduced to 4 per cent. They magnanimously offered to exchange for Boston & Maine common 'which must soon go on a 4 per cent. basis,' the 8 per cent stock of the American Telephone Company. Some of the stockholders yielded to this temptation, at the same time unable to appreciate the philanthropy of those making the offer."

Slap at Mellen Interests.

It is a matter of common knowledge in State Street that the New Haven people have been fighting for 51 per cent. ownership of the B. & M. stock ever since June. They are the ones who have been swapping 8 per cent. Telephone for 6 per cent. B. & M., and Mr. Tuttle's meaning wouldn't have been a bit plainer had he named the New Haven interests in direct language.

For five months the Mellen people trading through five brokerage houses, three large and two small, have been executing wash sales to the extent of thousands of shares a week in Boston & Maine on the Boston Stock Exchange for the purpose of picking up more Boston & Maine stock. The reports of the exchange show large daily transactions, yet a well-known Boston man who placed an order for fifty shares a few weeks ago could not get them for two weeks through his brokers.

Long Time Rivals.

The rumor that the Boston & Maine dividend must be cut was printed in the Boston News Bureau, considered the New Haven's local mouthpiece, but that did not scare the holders into selling, as anticipated, and then the fictitious sales began on 'change. The New Haven holds not more than 130,000 shares now, and only 128,000 were voted by "Billard and affiliated interests," as Mr. Tuttle says to-day, at the annual meeting.

His statement which was printed in the News Bureau, also revived today the persistent rumors of his resignation. It is known that Mr. Tuttle feels aggrieved at Mellen's acquisition of his road. Back of all this lies an old-time jealousy between the two railway chiefs.

Both men were formerly with the New Haven, and both were vice-presidents; but Tuttle was Mellen's boss. Then J. Pierpont Morgan sent Mellen West as head of the Northern Pacific. When his work was done, he brought him back as president of the New Haven. It was Morgan and the Standard Oil people who financed the purchase of the 130,000 shares of Boston & Maine.

Though the old spirit of jealousy almost animosity between Mellen and Tuttle has slumbered all these years, now the Brookline man finds Mellen in control of his road, and really his boss, enabled to oust him at any time as president of the B. & M.

It was given out to-day through New Haven channels that the Boston & Maine directors will dispose of the executive committee, and that it is probable that the office of corporate vice-president will be created, with John L. Billard filling the position.

YOUNG SILVER THIEF IS SENT TO CONCORD

Arthur Pitts, a young man living at No. 415 Massachusetts avenue, was given an indefinite term in Concord Reformatory by Judge Parmenter today on a charge of larceny. Miss Elizabeth Willis, another roomer at the same address, just returned from a two months' trip in the West, found that her trunks had been broken open and $200 worth of silverware had disappeared. On investigation, the police claim they found some of the missing silverware in Pitts's clothes.

SOBBING, SHE PLEADS 'YES, I'M GUILTY'

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—With tear-dimmed eyes, and in a trembling voice, a pretty young woman, who says her name is Mrs. Blanche Carr, said "yes, I'm guilty," when taken into the Police Court here to-day on a larceny charge, and she was held for trial on November 19 in $300 bonds.

Albert W. Hinckley, who says his home is in Woods Holl, denied complicity with her in the theft of a watch, valued at $20, and a ring valued at $5 from Eliza Goss. He was held for trial, too.

"My name, the young woman said to the police," is Mrs. Blanche Carr, but I was Blanche Adams before I was married. My family live on E street, in South Boston, and they are prominent. I never was arrested before. I pawned the watch."

Both Mrs. Carr and Hinckley were arrested in a house on George street by Police Inspector Godfrey last night. They were taken before Chief Inspector Horton and given the "third degree." They are also accused of taking goods valued at $32.10 from the home of Agnes McIver on Orms street, where they rented a room for about a month and left, it is claimed, without paying the rent.

When she found herself in the custody of the police Mrs. Carr, who gives her age as twenty-six, broke down. She is well dressed and refined in speech and manner. The man, who is a year younger than the woman, he says, denied all the charges made against him.

$15,000 FIRE GIVES BEVERLY A BIG SCARE

BEVERLY, Nov. 6.—One man was overcome by smoke, fifteen horses were rescued in the nick of time, and $15,000 worth of property was destroyed here today in a fire which looked for a while as though it would wipe out the entire town. Prompt action on the part of the fire department and a score of citizens who helped them prevented a spread of the flames. A general alarm was sounded.

The blaze started in the stable of the Marshall & Moulton Express Company on Park street shortly before noon. The flames spread quickly to Desmond's stable and to the residence of A. C. Copp on Pleasant street. A brisk wind carried burning embers to several other buildings.

Leonard Parsons, an employe of the Marshall & Moulton Company, was overcome by smoke while rescuing horses from the burning stable. He was removed to his home in a serious condition. The damage was about $15,000.

BOSTON SHIPPERS PROTEST AT NAVY

Is There Any Official In America Who Dares Prosecute Archbold?

(From the Cincinnati Post, Nov. 5.)

Now that the election is over it will be interesting to see whether or not there is in all this great and powerful government of ours one office and one officer who can and will take notice of John D. Archbold and his letters exposed by Hearst. And if a District Attorney shall fail to act, are we not justified in wondering if he has not, at some time, been the recipient of one of those certificates of deposit?

And if a judge interposes a technical bar, shall we not wonder if he has not been aided to office by the secret workings of No. 26 Broadway?

If there is some officer somewhere, whether it be a village constable or the President of the United States; a justice of the peace or the United States Supreme Court; a village solicitor or the Attorney-General of the United States—if there be any officer anywhere who can, as a work of duty or decency, run this man Archbold and his partners, Rockefeller, Rogers, et al., down as to their secret hold on the government of these United States, and of the individual States, LET HIM GET BUSY.

And let the first man, periodical or corporation who says, "Nay," be thrown down and searched for one of Archbold's, 'It gives me great pleasure to enclose' missives."

ROBERTS FOR QUICK REVISION OF THE TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Representative Ernest W. Roberts of Boston, who called on President Roosevelt to-day, spoke hopefully of the possibility of putting tariff revision through the house at the short session. "We all realize," said Mr. Roberts that the sooner we get this question of tariff out of the way the better it will be all round. Industries can get down to a good working basis when they know what to expect in this direction and the sooner we let them know the better. I believe the matter could be handled in the House, but believe that it will be difficult to get it through the Senate."

WHAT ELECTION COST PETERS

Campaign expenditures on behalf of Congressman Andrew J. Peters were made public to-day by Joseph Lyons, treasurer of the Eleventh District congressional campaign committee. He states that Martin F. Quigley, chairman of the Ward 10 committee, got $150; Henry A. Frothingham, Ward 11, got $150; James H. Doyle, Ward 12, got $100; James P. Timilty, Ward 18, got $150; James H. McInerney, Ward 19, $200; James J. McCarthy, Ward 22, $200; James M. Graham, Ward 23, $150; John F. Brogio, Ward 24, $150.

BROKER W. H. HAWES DIES SUDDENLY

William H. Hawes, a Central street commission broker, died at the Relief Hospital late last night from cerebral hemorrhages. Mr. Hawes was stricken in his office at 31 Central street yesterday and was taken to the hospital unconscious. Mr. Hawes was fifty-one years of age, single and resided at 606 Columbus avenue.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING HOUSE

While attempting to move a house single handed, George Angot of No. 21 Gould street, West Roxbury, was seriously hurt on the estate of Albert Sydenham, No. 375 Arborway, Jamaica Plain. The house toppled over on him and broke both his legs below the knees. He was pinned beneath it, and was only extricated with the greatest difficulty.

THINK STOLEN BONDS IN SAFE DEPOSIT BOX

A. B. Turner of A. B. Turner & Co., who has applied to the Superior Court for an injunction to restrain Edward C. Devine and Foster Hooper, who are under arrest in Chicago charged with forgeries and thefts in Boston amounting to $45,000, from removing the contents of a safety deposit box in the vaults of the Security Safe Deposit Company in this city. It is believed that this box may contain some of the securities which it is charged Devine and Hooper stole from Boston bankers.

Mr. Turner claims that Devine is the man who, under the name of Richard F. Parker of Worcester, secured $30,000 worth of bonds from him on a forged check on the Worcester Trust Company.

Devine and Hooper are to be brought to Boston for hearing. Officers from the Boston Police Department are on their way to Chicago to secure extradition. Hooper is charged with complicity in the swindle by which E. H. Gay Company lost $15,000 five years ago.

It is believed that Devine will also be charged with having swindled N. W. Harris Company of Boston of $25,000 six years ago. It is declared that he worked under the name of William Rusch and operated in the manner in which the Gay and Turner thefts were committed.

EASY MONEY.

POLICE IN AUTO GET TEAMSTER IN HOT CHASE

Policemen [illegible] and Clifford told Judge Parmenter to-day at the Municipal Criminal Court how they had chased George P. Collins, a teamster, with an automobile after Collins had run down a man and woman and injured both. The policemen said that when they gained on Collins with the auto he leaped from his wagon and took to his heels, and they were forced to follow him afoot to capture him.

Prince Farrbeour of No. 576 Shawmut avenue, whose legs were broken, and Anna Vars of No. 21 Westminster street, whose feet were crushed under Collins's wagon, are in the City Hospital. On this account Judge Parmenter continued the case until to-morrow, and he held Collins in $500 bonds.

EPIDEMIC OF SCARLET FEVER

Scarlet fever is now epidemic in Boston and there are so many cases that the contagion ward of the City Hospital is filled to overflowing. To-day it was arranged that the Homeopathic Hospital will take thirty patients which the City Hospital cannot accommodate. This was decided upon at a conference between Mayor Hibbard, the board of health, Dr. W. O. Mann of the Haynes Memorial Hospital and George J. Leonard, trustee of the Homeopathic Hospital.

THOUSANDS ENTERING HANDWRITING CONTEST

GREAT ARMY OF SCHOOL CHILDREN FOR SUNDAY AMERICAN'S CASH PRIZES.

Entries are coming in thick and fast in the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN Handwriting Contest for school boys and girls of Greater Boston under sixteen years of age.

Every boy and girl in Boston, probably, will enter between now and December 13, when the contest will close. Two hundred and fifty cash prizes, aggregating $500, will be awarded. Children of all schools—public, parochial and private—are eligible.

In order to enter, school children have only to follow the directions which will be printed again in next Sunday's BOSTON AMERICAN. The requirements are simple. The winners will be those who show best penmanship in writing the sentence:

"THE SUNDAY AMERICAN IS READ IN OUR HOME."

The prizes will be as follows:

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF EIGHT YEARS OR UNDER—$100 in prizes, as follows: First prize, $20; second prize, $10; third prize, $5; six prizes of $3 each; six prizes of $2 each, and thirty-five prizes of $1 each.

AUTO CRASHES INTO POLE: 1 DEAD, 2 HURT

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—As the result of a terrible automobile smashup in this city, Richard Pierce, a prominent lumber dealer of Glenville, a suburb of this city, is dead, and his brother, Paul Pierce, and friend, Frank [illegible], a foreman in the American Locomotive Works, are badly injured. The auto was going at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour when it collided with a telegraph pole and fire hydrant on Brandywine avenue, completely wrecking the car.

The occupants were thrown a distance of twenty feet, and Richard Pierce struck the ground heavily on his head. He was hurried to the Ellis Hospital, but died without regaining consciousness. A piece of skull three square inches in size was removed at the hospital in an effort to save his life.

The automobile was so badly smashed that repairs are impossible. Paul Pierce, who was riding on the rumble seat, escaped with the least injuries and said that the auto was going at the rate of sixty-five miles at the time of the collision with the pole.

HIT BY AUTO, MAN MAY DIE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—Christina Barrows, a Portuguese, was struck by an automobile while trying to cross South Main street today, and is in the hospital with a fractured skull. Surgeons think he will die. Charles L. Stafford, the chauffeur, was arrested and when arraigned in the police court on the charge of assault was held in $3,000 for a hearing on November 10. The auto is owned by Frederick P. Beck, a wealthy wool manufacturer. His daughter was riding in the car when the accident happened.

MELBA JOINS SUFFRAGETTES IN CAMPAIGN

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Mme. Melba is the latest notable adherent to suffragettism. She says she has been impelled to join the movement for humanitarian reasons. She visited recently Glasgow, Liverpool, Manchester and other large industrial centres and the poverty of the workwomen touched her heart. It compelled her to believe that their condition could be bettered if the influence of women were used in selecting members of Parliament.

She also sees political justice in the demand for women suffrage. She believes strongly in the wisdom of the lawmakers of Australia, who have enfranchised women.

"There is also," she adds, "the familiar claim that women like myself should not be denied the power which is given to our butlers and grooms."

BOSTON CENTRE FOR FURNITURE

To make Boston the centre of the furniture trade for New England is the ambition of the leading retail dealers of this city, who have several plans under advisement to accomplish that end. They now have to go to New York and Chicago to do their buying, as the big Western manufacturers exhibit their wares only in those cities.

The most likely proposition will be the establishment of a great warehouse in Boston to be owned and controlled by a stock company. A meeting was held yesterday at the American House, with sixty-five dealers present. Henry L. Kincaid of Quincy was chairman and Alonzo E. Yont secretary. Already 110 dealers have subscribed for stock in the new company. Some of the men who were at the meeting and who favor the scheme are Frank Ferdinand, Arthur McArthur and C. E. Osgood, Jackson Caldwell of Somerville, L. H. Joslin, the Smith & Barker Company of Worcester, John M. Dean of Providence and Robertson Brothers of Lowell. Another meeting will be held on November 10 in the same place.

BIG SUCCESS FOR CATHOLIC BAZAAR SURE

That everything will be in readiness in the Mechanics building for the opening of the Catholic Charities Bazaar next Wednesday is certain, and final preparations are being made.

About 100 members of the various committees in charge of the important preliminary detail work for the big enterprise met with Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, the diocesan director, last night in the hall of the Young Men's Catholic Association and canvassed the results of the work done.

Reports were made by all of the committees. The work of arranging the booths and other details is well under way, and everything will be in readiness for the decorators by to-morrow night. The decoration will be begun Monday morning and will be complete by night.

The booths and tables are to be installed on Monday and Tuesday, and the entire building will be in readiness for the opening Wednesday. The Midway is already being arranged in the basement and the entertainment committee reported last night that there would be all sorts of attractions for the younger people.

The Salem Cadet Band is to furnish music afternoon and evening and the Mission Church Band will render programs. Hospitals, orphan asylums, infant asylums, homes for the aged and for the poor are to benefit from the proceeds.

Reynolds, assistant secretary of the treasury, as their guest. Besides Assistant Secretary Reynolds there were present James J. Storrow, Bernard J. Rothwell, Jerome Jones, Robert S. Peabody, Wallace L. Pierce, Edwin G. Preston, Andrew G. Webster, Congressman Weeks and Collector Lyman of the custom service.

RESCUE CREW OF SEVEN FROM SINKING SHIP

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Austrian steamer Marie arrived to-day, bringing seven shipwrecked seamen, the crew of the schooner R. D. Spear. The Spear sailed from Philadelphia October 10 for Calais, Me. When within two miles of Scotland Lightship a northeast gale carried away the head gear and some sails. The schooner failed to make an anchorage inside Sandy Hook and was driven to sea. She sprang a leak, and was foundering when the Marie came along. The schooner was abandoned about 450 miles from Sandy Hook.

WOMAN AIDS BURGLAR BAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A meeting of the citizens of Cedarhurst was held last night in the residence of E. Greenfield, in Broadway, for the purpose of organizing a vigilance committee to halt the depredations of a band of burglars which has terrorized the section of Long Island occupied by the homes of many wealthy New York business men.

The meeting was prompted by the last daring robbery in Cedarhurst yesterday morning, when burglars entered the store of Isidor Simon and made away with $1,500 worth of goods. A woman was in the band and actually took part in looting the store while Simon and his family slept in the rooms in the rear. A shawl and a woman's hat were left behind. The burglars must have used a wagon or some large vehicle to take away the goods they stole.

A Full Line of Clothing For All Ages and Tastes

Almost Everything Needed for the Home

Nearly every woman would feel better for a Cascaret every day. Women exercise less than men. That's why they need help most.

A woman moved into a new flat with a bath room, and she said to a visitor: "You don't know how anxious I am for Saturday night. I want to take a bath."

That's what some of us do with our bowels.

We get into the habit of periodical cleansing. And we never realize how much better it is to give a little help every day.

That's the reason for Cascarets.

To give you a convenient vest-pocket laxative, the action of which is as natural and gentle as the action of laxative foods.

They are not like the old-time physics—castor oil, salts and cathartics. We took them only when we were forced to.

We let matters run until the bowels were clogged, and we were miserable.

Today we keep at our best.

The way is to take one Cascaret just as soon as you know that you need it. The results are as pleasant as the dose.

Those who exercise enough, and eat coarse food and plenty of fruit, don't need them.

All others do need them. Cascarets do just what Nature does for those who live in a natural way.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and

ADVERTISE IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN.

HUNT FOR AGED WOMAN, FEARED LOST IN WOODS

Special to the Boston American.

ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—Two searching parties are hunting through the woods near South Orleans for some trace of Mrs. Rosetta Rogers, eighty-seven years old, who disappeared from her home Monday morning last, and the waters and bog holes around Orleans Beach for Frederick Eddy, who left his cottage there on the night of October 28, and has not since been seen.

Eddy was employed picking fowls by Walter H. Mayo at East Orleans for eight years. He had a home at East Foxboro, but as business was light he was stopping at his Orleans Beach cottage. When he did not appear up to Wednesday night some friends went to his cottage and found it unlocked. Eddy's watch and trousers were on a chair.

The man was extremely nervous, it is said, and afraid of wind storms, and there was a severe blow on the night of October 28—the day on which he was last seen—and it is feared that he left his cottage and wandered out either into the water or some of the nearby bogs.

Mrs. Rogers lived alone in South Orleans. She returned Sunday from Dennis after visiting a daughter there, and intended soon to go to her son, Joseph Ellis, in Brewster. She purchased some supplies Monday morning and was last seen on her way home with them in a basket. It is feared she wandered off into the woods.

SYMPTOMS OF STOMACH TROUBLE

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a feeling as of weight on the chest, a full feeling in the throat. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom.

A very delicate stomach requires easily digested food but nature never intended that the food should be digested before it is eaten. The stomach must be strengthened to perform its own work and what it needs is not food already digested but a tonic. The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves, and medical science has produced no better digestive tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is shown by the statement of Mr. Charles D. Rathbun, Jr., of No. 10 Walnut Court, Springfield, Mass. He says:

"Through indiscretions in eating, such as over-loading my stomach and eating too rapidly, I brought on stomach trouble which lasted about seven years. My stomach was so weak that food distressed me and after eating I would have heartburn, the food would ferment and gas form. For a time my distress would be so great that I could hardly breathe. I had splitting headaches across the forehead, which made me sick all over. They would last for half a day at a time.

"I tried the different kinds of medicine which were recommended to me but was not helped. I then began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking them for a few weeks was entirely cured. They helped me from the start and I recommend them highly."

Sufferers from dyspepsia in any form who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using ordinary remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A helpful booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," containing information regarding diet, free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MERCHANTS TO FIGHT FOR COMMERCIAL DRY DOCK

REORGANIZED ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES ITS PLANS AND COMMITTEES.

The long-expected first statement of the reorganized Boston Merchants' Association, stating the new policies and plans of the association with the membership of its committees, was given out to-day. The new association is backed by a most representative list of Boston business men, and has a working fund of $100,000 to bring about the projects toward bettering Boston commercially.

Already the association, under the leadership of President James J. Storrow and Executive Secretary Ryerson Ritchie, has fought a successful battle with the American Express Company against extortionate express rates, especially on shipments between New York and Boston. To-day's announcement contains the information that an agitation will be begun by the association for the construction in Boston of a commercial dry dock, costing about $800,000. "Such a dock," says the association, "would attract new steamship lines, large ships and increase the business of the port."

Committees Announced.

To-day is announced for the first time the membership of the various committees of the association. To these committees is assigned the real work of the association, the working out of its various projects and problems as affecting the welfare of Boston and the leading of the fights for needed reforms. As the association says: "In the election of committees the board of directors has had in mind solely the question of fitness * * * in order to secure the highest effectiveness." GETS WRIT TO BLOCK ARREST

John J. Reisler of New York, president of the Reisler Amusement Company, which owned the "Cash Girl" show, was arrested on a mesne process at the instigation of the New York Photographing and Engraving Company on the grounds that he was about to leave the State. The New York concern claims he owes it money. The "Cash Girl" company disbanded in this city.

Reisler got his liberty to-day through the granting of a writ of habeas corpus by Judge Hammond of the Supreme Court. The court held it was wrong to cause Reisler's arrest while he was in Massachusetts to defend two equity suits. Shortly after his release Judge Richardson, in Superior bench, issued in behalf of Reisler a writ of protection which prevents his further arrest in this State on civil suits.

ELECTION OF TAFT OPENS IDLE MILLS

Thousands to Return to Work on Mighty Wave of Prosperity.

SWEEPS OVER COUNTRY

Now that the national administration for another four years has been decided upon the signs of returning prosperity are heard all over the land. Since the election of William H. Taft large orders have been placed by business concerns, more men are being hired and great manufacturing plants which have been running on half time for months are resuming operations in full. Here are some of the signs of revival of business.

BALTIMORE—The Maryland Steel Company has begun to book orders since the election. Larger ones are to be placed with it. The South Baltimore Steel Car and Foundry Company is figuring on important contracts for cars. The officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company are preparing lists of necessary requirements. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is preparing to add greatly to its equipment. The Western Maryland Railroad is to spend about $1,500,000 for new rolling stock. The Consolidated Coal Company of Maryland has started all of its mines in full operation.

Work for 35,000.

NEW BEDFORD—The 35,000 mill operatives here are all to be at work again soon, for nearly all of the idle looms and spindles in New Bedford are resuming. Mill stock has advanced sharply and can hardly be bought.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The customs receipts at the port of New York yesterday exceeded $1,000,000, caused by the rush of importers to withdraw merchandise from bonded warehouses. The Erie Railroad yesterday employed 200 men at Port Jarvis, N. J. The James Chadwick & Brother, Limited, cotton mill in Jersey City has resumed full time.

TRENTON, N. J.—A. C. Funk, manager of the Trenton plant of the American Bridge Company, has received notice that more than half of a 5,000-ton order of structural steel is to be made here.

UTICA—The Globe Woolen Mills, employing more than 1,000 hands, is to resume operation in full.

Fire Coke Ovens.

PAWTUCKET, R. I.—The thread mills of the J. & P. Coats Company, employing 2,500 hands, is to resume full time to-morrow.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Alabama iron manufacturers sold 50,000 tons of pig iron in the first twenty-four hours after the election.

PITTSBURG, Pa.—All of the idle coke ovens of the Connellsville coke fields are to be fired within the next few days, giving employment to thousands of idle men.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company is preparing to open all of its departments on full time. The Baldwin Locomotive Works expects heavy orders within a few days and within a few months the entire force of 10,000 men will be employed full time.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 6.—The Hazleton Sheet Steel Mills officials have sent West for men to man their big plant entire.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—All of the granite firm of the city are working their full forces of men and expect to continue this all Winter, something unusual.

NORRISTOWN, Pa.—The Quaker City Shirt Works, one of the largest plants of its kind in the country, started its full force of men to work.

CHICAGO—The Western Steel Car & Foundry Company is to employ 1,000 additional men in the next month. The Pullman company has taken back 2,500 men and will double this force. The Illinois Steel Company is to employ 12,000 men within a short time. By January 1 the Steel Trust's plant at Gary will be employing 12,000 men. The Inland Steel Company is running full time with 1,800 men, and is to employ 1,000 more. More than 18,000 workers, idle until last Tuesday, are to-day at work.

DAKOTA LIKES DIVORCE LAW

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 6.—South Dakota may still remain the mecca of divorce-seekers. Late returns and an analysis of the vote on the proposition to raise the period of residence from six months to a year indicate that the proposition has failed and that the six months law will remain in force.

Several days and a careful count will be required to decide whether Sioux Falls shall maintain its divorce colony and its easy divorce law.

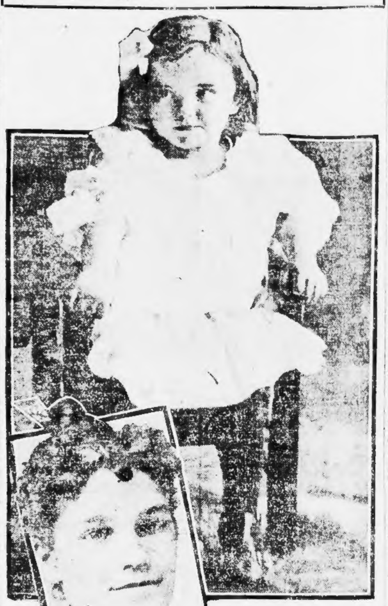
WHO HAS SEEN MISSING WOMAN?

Picture of Alice Tyler and her mother, Mrs. William H. Tyler, who strangely disappeared.



Heartbroken because of his wife's mysterious disappearance more than two years ago, William H. Tyler has appealed to the BOSTON AMERICAN to aid him in obtaining some trace of the missing woman. He has not seen her since one day in August, 1906, and has received but one letter from her since she left home.

She left him and two beautiful children, Arthur, nine years old, and Alice, seven; and Mr. Tyler says they need a mother's care and he wants his wife to return to him and them. To the BOSTON AMERICAN he said:

"I was a night watchman working for a department store on Washington street when my wife left our home at No. 122 Bower street, Roxbury. She had practically got out of a sick bed to go away. And I have never been able to find out why she went. One August night after I had been at work about two hours I became worried about my wife and went home to see if all was right. She had gone. She told my children she was going to visit a woman friend in Roxbury.

Gets Strange Letter.

"In the following February I received a letter from her postmarked Station A, Boston, but it contained no address. It was a singular letter. I would not care to make its contents public to the world. But in it she intimated that she might return to me if her health improved. She said she wanted to see the children.

"That is the last I have heard from her. I have searched everywhere that I could think of to get some trace of her but without avail. It is a great sorrow to me. I do not care so much about my own feelings but when I realize how much my children need their mother's care it is hard to stand. I am sure that if my wife realized how I feel, and how much she is needed at home, she would return to us.

"I loved my wife and tried to make her happy. She was a good woman and we lived as happily together as most couples do. I suspect that one woman friend of hers may have given her wrong advice. I am sure that if she had known how great a wrong she was doing her children and me she would never have left home.

Seeks Aid of Police.

"She has a mother, three sisters and two brothers living in Midland, South Dakota. They do not know where my wife is. I recently received a letter from her mother saying so. I have not the slightest idea where she is myself. Her name is Margaret J. Tyler and she was eighteen years old when we were married at London, Ontario, and she was then an attendant in an insane asylum there.

"After Mrs. Tyler left me, I took my children to Maine and we all boarded there until I took them to relatives of mine in Maine."

Mr. Tyler has appealed to the police to aid him in finding his wife. He is haunted by the belief that there was some misunderstanding on her part, or that she would never have gotten up while ill, dressed herself, tenderly kissed her children and gone away without leaving any more trace than if swallowed by the sea.

OLD CURB MEN MARCH INTO LAWSON CAMP

Victory for Thomas W. Lawson and his new Doane street curb market was made complete to-day when the four remaining members of the group who attempted to continue the old curb market in Exchange place marched into the Lawson camp. They were welcomed and permitted to do business as if they had not made their effort to fight Lawson's efforts to "reform" the institution.

A meeting to complete the details of the new market is held at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon at No. 19 Exchange place. All members of the reorganized curb will have to pledge themselves to exclusive membership in the organization—that is, so far as Boston is concerned.

HARVARD 'JOSH' PAPER JEERS AT RADCLIFFE

"The Radcliffe Suffragette," a new Harvard "Josh" four-page paper, made its appearance in the streets of Cambridge and was the source of much amusement to-day. It is largely devoted to the views of its proprietor on Radcliffe College, its students and woman's suffrage.

Rumor has J. S. Y. Ivins, whose father ran for Mayor of New York on the Republican ticket two years ago, as the owner of the new publication. He is alleged also to have issued the paper called the Harvard Anarchist last year. That was printed on red paper.

The Radcliffe Suffragette is printed on yellow. Its leading story has this caption:

A NEW CONVERT IN
MRS. FRELENON HELBEND
An Ardent Suffragist Drops the Probation Movement and Fights for Women's Rights

Mrs. Frelevon Helbend is described as having been born in Cambridgeport of "well to do but honest parents," and is president of "The American Society of Actorines," and much more like this. Four young Harvard men who had planned to issue the Harvard 'Ladies' Home Journal—on the same lines—to-day were much chagrined to find their paper had been anticipated. They say, however, that they will bring it out just the same.

RECOUNT ASKED FOR DEAN IN WAKEFIELD

A petition for a recount in the contest for representative in Wakefield was drawn up to-day by John J. Burton, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, and it is expected that it will be presented to the town clerk to-morrow. It is to decide whether Charles A. Dean, who is serving his tenth year as Representative, was really defeated by his Republican opponent, Josiah A. Barney. Dean officially polled 1,040 votes and Barney 1,080.

CUT LIQUOR LICENSES AND INCREASE FEE

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 6.—Although they failed in their crusade for a no-license vote throughout the State, the temperance workers are elated over the putting into effect of the new law reducing the number of licenses issued and raising license fees.

Scores of liquor dealers who have been refused a license renewal thronged the office of the Police Commissioners to protest. But they found the commissioners obdurate in the face of all appeals.

The Rev. A. B. Cristy, superintendent of the Rhode Island Anti-Saloon League, said: "The Police Board has done splendidly. When lawlessness was concerned they applied the knife without hesitation. In every other case they weighed every side of the matter carefully before reaching a decision. They were as just as humans could be."

Men prominent in the liquor trade do not agree with Mr. Cristy or the board. Spencer H. Over, manager of the Narragansett Brewery, said: "They have taken a number of good people out and left a number of bad ones in. Many who were cut out don't know the reason."

In Woonsocket there will be eighty-four licenses granted this year instead of 100, and the license fees will be $1,200 each for wholesalers and $625 for retailers. This is an advance of $700 for wholesalers and $275 for retailers.

FIND BODY OF MEDWAY GIRL

IVORYTON, Ct., Nov. 6.—The discovery of a woman's hat and coat on the banks of Keyboard pond led to the finding of the body of Miss Ruth Putney, 26, of Medway, Mass. The girl's mother scouts the theory of suicide. The young woman was subject to fainting spells, she said, and may have fallen from the river bank.

U. S. S. MAINE MASCOT DEAD

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 6.—The sailors of the U. S. S. Maine are mourning over the loss of their pet bear, Teddy Maine, who made the cruise around the world in the ship. The bear was presented to the ship by the citizens of Aberdeen, Wash. The bear was taken sick and died suddenly.

Ex-Banker Testifies
Financier Wm. J. F. Reynolds Unable to Walk.
Munyon's Rheumatic Remedy Made Him Well

Mr. Wm. J. F. Reynolds, ex-banker and financier, writes: Phila., Oct. 28, 1907. "I was perfectly helpless with rheumatism. I could not walk. I could not stand. My feet, ankles and knees were terribly swollen and I had not known a night's rest for more than a year. I used every available remedy known, with little or no relief. A friend advised Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and reluctantly I tried it. The first bottle relieved and I purchased another. Before the second bottle had been half used I was absolutely and perfectly cured. I never felt better in my life than I feel now.

"I shall always be but too happy to give a fuller account of what Munyon's wonderful Rheumatic Remedy did for me, and cheerfully invite any sufferer to visit or correspond with me upon the subject."
Wm. J. E. Reynolds,
1313 Arch St.

This testimonial was written nearly a year ago. We wrote to Mr. Reynolds on Oct. 20, 1908, asking how he was getting on. This is his answer: "I want to say that I have not had the slightest touch of Rheumatism for nearly a year. Your Rheumatism Cure eradicated every particle of Rheumatism from my system. You are at liberty to use my name as reference in any way you please."

If you have stiff or swollen joints, if you have lame or stiff back, if you have sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, side, breast, or any part of the body, don't fail to take Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. It contains no salicylic acid, no morphine, no opium, no cocaine. It is absolutely harmless. It neutralizes the uric acid and eliminates all rheumatic poisons from the system. A 25c bottle often makes a complete cure. Get a bottle to-day and if you are not satisfied with the results, I will refund the money. MUNYON.

WOMEN EAT TOO MUCH AND DON'T EXERCISE

—Annette Kellerman

WOMAN SWIMMER TELLS HOW MEMBERS OF HER SEX CAN BE HEALTHY AND BEAUTIFUL.

"What can a woman do to be healthy and beautiful? I could talk all day on that subject, although it's jolly hard lines for a woman to be all that in this country, where you have but one swimming tank to about a million women. Think of it! In England and Australia they have one about every two blocks."

Having delivered this enthusiastic outburst, Annette Kellermann hunched up one rung higher on the little high stool in front of her dressing table and emitted a long, doleful sigh.

"Women get so fat, most of them, and it's so unnecessary. Fat is abominable, disgusting! And the worst of it is that once it begins to accumulate on a woman her chances for losing it grow fewer and fewer, for the fatter she gets the more she hates to exert herself. And only exertion and exercise will ever relieve her of her too earthly flesh.

"My eye! but I saw two women in the hotel dining room last night. They were so fat, oh, so fat! And what do you suppose they ordered? One of those planked, or what do you call them, steaks, and great, huge mugs of beer, and each one ate enough for three men. Then I suppose they went home and when they saw their own fat reflections in the mirror they sighed and groaned and held first one fat side and then the other and rolled their eyes to heaven and cried from the depths of their full stomachs, 'Oh, if I could only be slim.'

"And that's what's the matter with most of the women. They won't exercise, and they will overeat. Just fawncy any other result!"

Can Be Athletic and Slender.

And all this was the substance of the lecture which Miss Kellermann delivers at Boston Theatre to-day for women.

"All the old Professor Stick-In-the-Muds claim that a woman cannot be athletic and still retain her womanly charm. It's all nonsense. I'm a flat contradiction to that theory, because for six years I've been a professional, and yesterday Professor Sargent of Harvard said I was perfectly womanly. The trouble is that most women who take up athletics overdo it. Excess in athletics is just as bad as excess in anything else.

"But I insist that a certain amount of exercise is necessary for every woman. Whether it is indoor or outdoor exercise it gives her a healthy body, and when that's accomplished a whole lot of the cobwebs are brushed away from her brain also.

"Of all out-door exercise swimming is the best and cycling the worst. Swimming brings all the muscles into action and has only the best effects. Cycling stiffens the muscles, gives an ugly overdevelopment of the leg and does not help the chest or back.

Women Eat Too Much.

"If women would only not eat so much! They eat meat three times a day, some of them. Add dieting to exercise and there you have the problem solved. And let me tell you, dieting is just as necessary for thin women as it is for the fat ones. Every woman, whatever her age or weight, should take a lemon the first thing in the morning and without sugar.

"Now the fat women, the women who wish to reduce their flesh, should exercise twenty minutes every morning, outdoors if possible, but indoors will be effective, too. And she ought not to eat anything until noon and then not too much. The trouble with most women is not that they eat too little, but that they eat too much.

"I never eat meat. I'll wager you I haven't eaten meat four times in a year. Meat eating is, I suppose, necessary to some people, but if they would only cut down on the amount they would be pleased. Meat makes all kinds of skin troubles and the Lord knows, every woman covets a good complexion. Meat should never be eaten except in the middle of the day.

"The more you eat, the more you want to eat. Too much food does you no good. It clogs your system and does harm in a great many ways.

Eats Nothing Until Noon.

"Being healthy is wonderfully simple and good looks are sure to result.

"What do I eat? Oh, nothing till noon, and then fish, vegetables and ice cream. But the ice cream is not for the fat woman. It's good for one, but if a woman wants to reduce she must steer clear of such indulgences. For the evening meal I take vegetables, perhaps oysters and some sort of pudding.

"So many people ask incredulously, 'Why is it that the same sort of exercise will make a fat woman thin and a thin woman well rounded?' But that is just what it will do. Exercise will reduce flesh and it will build muscle. It brings the fat woman down to normal and the thin woman up to the same plane.

"I should never advise the thin woman to go without breakfast altogether, and her exercise is best taken after having eaten something light.

"When I came over here," continued the world's champion swimmer and acknowledged most perfectly formed woman, "the thing that amazed me most was the absence of swimming tanks and the way young women dress when they go into the water. Why, they are all decked out with almost as many clothes as they wear when they are fully dressed. My senses! How can they expect swimming to do them any good when they wear a three or four piece suit, stockings, shoes, cap and even corsets. The wearing of corsets in swimming is the most ridiculous thing that ever happened. No exercise should be taken in corsets. If necessary some slight support may be worn, but corsets, never!

"Women should learn in tanks and not at the seaside. There's so much rubbering there, and the women are so self conscious that they accomplish about as much at swimming as if they stayed on dry land.

"A lot of the men who think they know claim that a woman can never become as great an athlete as a man, but she can. A woman has more endurance than a man, but, unfortunately, not as much patience.

"Children should be taught to swim and dance and to take long walks. These three things will make them healthy and graceful. A good teacher can work wonders with a child and a bad teacher can do a lot of harm. The chief trouble, however, is the absence of swimming tanks in this country. What few there are are so exclusive that one has to have a pedigree and numerous recommendations to gain admittance.

MISS KELLERMANN'S RULES FOR HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Lead a regular life. Sleep regularly, eat regularly. Avoid overeating, overdrinking. Never drink anything alcoholic. Take 20 minutes exercise every morning and drink the juice of a lemon. Avoid excess in all things, including exercise. Be careful of one's diet. Avoid meat.

FOR FAT WOMEN.

Exercise, diet, and then exercise and diet some more. Avoid all sweets and starchy foods. Avoid too much drinking of anything. Omit breakfast and exercise twenty minutes every morning.

FOR THIN WOMEN.

Exercise twenty minutes after breakfast. Eat moderately of only foods having good food values. Live regularly. Sleep at least eight hours, ten if possible.

MACKAY PLAYS AT FIRE CHIEF

Clarence H. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company, displayed his prowess as an amateur fire department chief when he directed the efforts of his employes and his neighbors, who conquered a fire which threatened to destroy the splendid Mackay mansion at Harbor Hill, near Roslyn, L. I.

The fire presumably was started by a spark from a passing Long Island Railroad locomotive. It swept through one acre of cultivated woodland before Mr. Mackay, who was taking a nap, was apprised of the danger. He rushed out, organized his fire-fighting force and sent messengers to his wealthy neighbors for help.

MANILA EDITORS HELD FOR LIBEL

MANILA, Nov. 5.—The managerial and editorial forces of El Renacimiento, a leading Filipino paper, were arrested charged with criminally libelling Dean C. Worcester of the Philippine Commission.

MUTE WOMAN LOST $25,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—An interpreter for the deaf and dumb in the Supreme Court yesterday translated the sign language of Mrs. Katherine K. Wright, who told how her son-in-law, James Mendels, a Wall Street broker, had duped her into signing a mortgage for $25,000 on her handsome home at No. 43 West Fifty-eighth street. The Oriental Bank is now suing for payment.

With combined lip and hand movements she told that Mendels had put the paper before her, stating that it was a reference he needed in opening his brokerage office. Mrs. Mendels, who is separated from her husband, corroborated the story of her mother.

FINE AND JAIL FOR CHAUFFEUR

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Ellis H. Kulp, a demonstrator for an automobile company, for reckless driving was sentenced in Special Sessions yesterday to twenty days in the City Prison, to pay $150 fine and to serve an additional thirty days in jail.

Kulp, on the record, is an old offender. The Automobile Club of America and Commissioner Bingham, in letters to District Attorney Jerome, requested that an example be made of Kulp. Simon R. Weil, who was in the car with several women when Kulp was arrested, testified that the car was driven at such a speed that the women became hysterical and begged to be allowed to get out of the car.

STEEL BUSINESS ON THE BOOM

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—The United States Steel Corporation and the independent plants in and around Pittsburg are preparing to make 1909 a banner year in steel production. In spite of the financial stringency of the last year records for iron ore shipments into the Pittsburg district are being broken. The Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad to-day announced that up to November 1 it had this year brought from the lakes 4,663,000 tons of ore, and that last year's record of 5,843,000 tons would be beaten.

To the Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburg has been awarded the contract for 2,200 steel gondola cars. The company is also bidding on 500 cars for a Western system and on 1,000 gondola cars for a Virginia railroad.

WILL GET $2,400.

Action against John W. Hastings, a former vault clerk at the sub-treasury, to recover $2,400 was non-suited in the United States Court yesterday and Hastings will receive $2,400, which the government held, but which Hastings claimed.

NURSE TELLS OF BABY'S SUFFERING

Raw with Eczema from Birth—Fearful Itching Lasted for Months—Treatment Futile—Walked the Floor with Him Night and Day—Wasted Away and Got Little Rest.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"The first time I went out as a nurse was when a baby boy was born. He was perfectly raw all over with humor. The doctor gave us some ointment to use, but he got no better. The baby seemed to be suffering terribly, and at times I had to walk the floor with him night and day, sending for my husband to carry him when I could not. His poor little head became covered with crusts and the doctor decided it was eczema. The fearful itching went on for months, and the little fellow was wasted to a skeleton and could get almost no rest. At last I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies, bathing him with Cuticura Soap, using just as little water as possible; then I applied the Cuticura Ointment, and gave him small doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This relieved him almost at once and in a comparatively short time the baby was quite well. Now, thirteen years after, he is a fine boy, in the High School, and he has never had any return of the disease. I have since known of a number of cases of eczema which have been cured by Cuticura, but none, perhaps, as severe as this one. I have always recommended Cuticura most highly for skin troubles, and shall continue to do so. Mrs. Elizabeth Howie, Nurse, 70 Grove St., Chelsea, Mass., Nov. 15, '07."

DISFIGURING

Humors, Eczemas, and Itchings Cured by Cuticura.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head, all demand a remedy of extraordinary virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills are such stands proven by testimonials of remarkable cures when all else has failed.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

GIRL ACCUSED OF KIDNAPPING YOUNG BROTHER

Miss Caroline A. Bailey, a young candy saleswoman of No. 784 Washington street, Dorchester, was arraigned before Judge Murray in the Municipal Criminal Court to-day charged with having kidnapped her brother, Walter [illegible], thirteen years old, from his father's home in Windham, N. H., on October 31.

Her parents are divorced. The custody of the boy was awarded to his father. The police say that Miss Bailey went to Windham and took the lad to New York and now has him hidden somewhere in this city.

She denies the charge and will not even admit having been in Windham on the day claimed.

"I know absolutely nothing about the thing," she says to all questions.

She was arrested in the candy shop last night by Inspector John Linton and taken to police headquarters. There she was bailed by Samuel [illegible] of No. 27 Fort avenue, in the sum of $2,000.

The case was continued at the request of the police until Thursday next, the same bond remaining in force.

ACCIDENT CAUSE OF UNKNOWN'S DEATH

According to the medical examiner, the unknown man found by Sanitary Inspector John B. McDonough at the foot of the cellar stairs at No. 9 Lowell street met his death through accident and not violence. It is thought the unknown was either a mill hand or a shoe laster.

You! Dyspeptics Read

What An Eminent Medical Man Says Dyspepsia Really Is. Then Gain Hope.

"This affection called Dyspepsia is the greatest torment of civilized life, and is to be considered rather as an unnatural functional difficulty than as a structural disease."

The same authority has classified dyspepsia thus: The first form due to relations with other organs which are in a morbid and unhealthy state, which is characterized as a reflex action. Of such a type is the nausea and vomiting caused by irritation of brain, lungs, liver or uterus.

The second form is caused by scanty supply of gastric juice, made evident by slowness of digestion, long retention of food in the stomach, distress for a long time after meals, accompanied by weighty and uneasy feelings at pit of stomach, decomposition of food in alimentary canal causing fetid and foul gases and the appearance of undigested food in the evacuations from bowels.

The third and last form of dyspepsia, according to this renowned medical light, is that which accompanies some abnormal quality of the gastric juice, combined with a partial paralysis of the stomach's muscles so that this organ cannot sufficiently mix the food with the digestive fluids.

These tablets contain digestive agents which act with or without the aid of the stomach. One grain of an ingredient used in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food, and if necessary will do it in a glass vial so that the digestion can be seen by the human eye.

They help the stomach, enrich the blood, revitalize the gastric juices, give strength to the alimentary nerves and glands. They are recommended by every druggist and 40,000 physicians who use and prescribe them. Get a box to-day from any drug store; price 50c; or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Springfield Girl Who Eloped to Escape Elaborate Wedding

Mrs. Raymond C. Wilson.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 6.—Dreading the formalities and display incidental to an elaborate wedding at home or in church, Miss E. May Haley and Raymond C. Wilson of this city eloped to New Haven and were married. A telegram announcing the wedding and asking the parental blessing was the first their families knew of what had taken place.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Haley, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wilson.

The wedding is largely the outcome of a schoolday romance. Mr. Wilson met his bride when both were attending the Technical High School. They graduated together with the class of '08, and it was an open secret that they were engaged. When Miss Haley left home she said she was going to the theatre. But instead she started on a journey that ended in her wedding. The young couple are very popular.

The woman says she was engaged to Sullivan, and that he put the money in the bank in his name as trustee for her.

LINER HENRY M. WHITNEY SINKS IN EAST RIVER

WAS BOUND FOR BOSTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—With her bow hard and fast on the rugged shore of Ward's Island and her stern dangling and waving in 100 feet of water, the steamer H. M. Whitney of the Metropolitan Steamship Company today is a total loss and in danger of sinking to the bottom.

The steamer was on her way to Boston last evening and when trying to avoid a collision with some barges ran onto Stony Rock in the East River. A great hole was made below the water line. The inrush of water was so rapid that in less than a minute the fires were put out and nine stokers who were in the engine room had to run for their lives.

Captain Theodore Hone was in the pilot house. When off Ward's Island he made out the string of brick scows drifting across his course.

Missed Scows; Hit Rock.

The Whitney missed the scows, but hit a rock that tore away part of her starboard side under water. Captain Hone made for Ward's Island at full speed. Several harbor tugs followed.

The Whitney was filling fast. Chief Engineer Andrew [illegible] ordered the watertight compartment closed. His assistants, Bill Mozart and Andrew Moody, kept the engines going at full speed, but as the boat listed badly, water began to pour through the portholes, and all hands had to climb up the higher parts of the engine to keep from being washed away.

There was seven feet of water in the engine room when the three men deserted their posts a minute or so before Captain Hone had beached the vessel. Everybody was taken off without much difficulty, as there were no passengers on board.

Settled Quickly.

After [illegible] she began to settle rapidly, and in a few minutes there was thirty or forty feet of water over her stern and her bow was sticking out of the water at a sharp angle. There was said to be more than 100 feet of water under the vessel's stern and she threatened to be completely submerged. An early moon lighted the channel clearly for the night boats of the Fall River and the Norwich lines.

GENERAL ALARM FOR $10 BLAZE

A general fire alarm, summoning out all the Somerville fire engines and two from Cambridge, was sounded late yesterday afternoon for a ten-dollar fire in the home of Peter Mullin, at No. 113 Washington street, Somerville. The fire, which was caused by the explosion of an oil stove, was discovered by a boy, who sounded an alarm from Box 13, at Glen and Morton streets.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT IN PERIL DURING HUNT

GENESEO, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Ethel Roosevelt was riding behind the hounds in the Genesee Valley Club's fox hunt when her saddle horn slipped as her mount was taking a fence. The thoroughbred became fractious, and it looked for a moment as though Miss Ethel was in for a bad tumble. Harry Wilson of Geneseo dashed up in time to stop the animal.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY TAFT BOOMS STOCKS

MARKET CHEERFUL AT OUTLOOK—PUBLIC BEGINS TRADING—WHOLE LIST UP.

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A reassuring statement by President-elect Taft caused a fresh outburst of enthusiasm in Wall street to-day. The stock market became buoyant, establishing new high records in all the active issues. Steel, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and the copper shares were leaders. Transactions were very heavy. Specialties were also active.

There seemed to be a genuine demand for stocks on the part of the public and in addition to this there was feverish covering of short contracts by professional traders who sold yesterday afternoon when the Northern Pacific extra dividend was announced. Metal shares were the favorite, with smelters showing a gain of 2 points and Steel common touching a new high record of 51⅝.

Industrials Up.

Amalgamated Copper was also active, making a new top of 84⅞. Specialties shared in the strength, with International Pump, American Cotton Oil, and American Locomotive selling at record prices. Consolidated Gas and National Lead were also strong.

Stocks of railroad equipment companies were taken in hand and advanced under leadership of American Locomotive, Allis-Chalmers, both common and preferred, and American Foundry.

In the railroad department, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific were the leaders, all selling at the highest figures of the year. St. Paul rose to 145⅛. Even New York Central advanced 1½ points.

Coppers Improve.

In London American stocks were strong because of the Northern Pacific melon. Advances in the foreign market averaged about a point throughout the list. Although reports from London said that a settlement of the Lancashire strike was in sight, the cotton market in New York opened a trifle lower. Wheat was also slightly lower.

On the curb market Cobalt stocks were favorites under leadership of Larose, which made a new high record; Nipissing and Cobalt Central. Stocks of copper companies in Nevada that can produce the metal at a low cost were also strong and in demand.

LABOR OFFICERS RESTRAINED BY COURT'S ORDER

Contractors File Complaint That Employes Have Been Threatened.

Judge Sheldon of the Supreme Court today on the petition of Woodbury & Leighton Co., contractors, issued an interlocutory decree restraining Edward J. McGivern and other officers of the Plasterers' Union from interfering with workmen employed in constructing the new high schoolhouse and registry of deeds building in Salem.

Robert Gallagher & Co. and the Muir Brothers have the sub-contract for plastering, and it is claimed that labor leaders have threatened their employes. Labor leaders say that these firms are "unfair."

SUBWAY PLANS BEFORE MAYOR

Mayor Wardwell of Cambridge is to-day considering the plans for the three subway stations in Cambridge as proposed by the Boston Elevated Railway Company. One proposed station is at Sixth street, Cambridgeport; another at Pearl street and the third at Harvard square. The first two are planned to be "island" stations.

The Harvard square station is to be the largest and an incline is to admit the surface electrics to the platform. The Central square station will admit the surface cars, but passengers will be required to walk down a flight of stairs to reach the subway. After the Mayor passes upon the plans the board of railroad commissioners will take final action.

ATE FRYING PAN FULL OF BACON EVERY EVENING

Feat Performed By Guides Impossible For New Yorkers, Says Cooper

The headquarters of L. T. Cooper, the young man who claims that the stomachs of many Americans are degenerate, has presented a scene of unusual activity for the past few days.

Cooper with his assistants is meeting the public at present in New York. The success he has had in other cities seems to have followed him here, for an astonishing number of people are calling to have his theory and medicines explained to them.

Thursday afternoon when interviewed, Cooper said: "I am often asked if my medicine is good for kidney trouble, or liver complaint, or rheumatism, or a dozen other diseases too numerous to mention. These are hard questions to answer. Frankly, my treatment is for the stomach, and for the stomach alone, but if the function of digestion is being properly performed very few people can be sick.

"The stomach is the seat of life. The entire system depends upon its action. Why are there so many half-sick people to-day? It is because the stomach of a man or woman who lives a shut-up life day after day, taking little or no exercise in the fresh air, cannot digest the amount of food that is forced upon it. It gradually grows weaker under these circumstances, and nervousness, kidney trouble, rheumatism, etc., is the result.

"I am successful with my treatment because the medicine cleans out the food tracts that have become clogged, gets the digestive organs regulated and gives nature a chance. Give nature a chance, that's the secret of health.

"Last year I was on a fishing trip in Northern Minnesota. I had two guides who had spent their lives in the woods trapping, hunting and fishing. When night came these men would eat a frying pan full of bacon, pouring the grease over great hunks of a soggy sort of bread. The sight of these slabs of bacon would sicken most New Yorkers, but these men munched it down with a relish and then rolled up in a blanket and slept like logs. They never knew they had a stomach, so perfectly did the gastric juices perform their function. I asked them if they were ever sick. They both laughed at the idea. 'Never had a minute's sickness,' they said.

"Modern conditions make it impossible for people to live as these men live, but if they get their digestions in shape there will be mighty little rheumatism or kidney trouble or liver complaint. I do not believe in taking medicine unless it is necessary, but if a man or woman is suffering with what is called 'a general run-down condition,' and what I call 'a played-out stomach,' will take Cooper's New Discovery for six weeks, I can assure them they will need no more medicine for many months to come.

"'The proof of the pudding is in the eating.' I have been in New York only two weeks. To-day I have had a dozen people call and thank me for my 'wonderful medicine,' as they call it. These are only the first. Such people will call by hundreds before I leave."

Cooper's New Discovery is now on sale at leading drug stores throughout the United States. It has made a remarkable record. Ask your druggist for it.

FISHERMEN NEAR DEATH IN SEA STORM

Crews Tried to Make Boston While Herring Famine Was On.

Lured by the bait of $5 per barrel for bloater herring, of which the boat had taken forty barrels, the little power boat Indian put out from Plymouth at 11 o'clock last night, and all night battled with the northwest gale that dashed seas of spray over the men and kept the crew of four bailing constantly, in an attempt to make T wharf early to-day. At times, while braving the teeth of the storm, with the gunwale of the little boat close to the water, the crew were tempted to throw the fish overboard to save their own lives.

The Indian finally arrived safely at T wharf at 11:30 o'clock to-day, too late to market the fish at the top market price, and the fare netted only $2.50 per barrel instead of $5. Captain William Parnell and his crew ran into the herring school off Plymouth yesterday afternoon.

One hour and a half after the arrival of the Indian the power boat Ionet, about the same size as the former craft, and which also took a good-sized fare off Plymouth yesterday, was towed up the harbor to T wharf by the tug Leader. Captain Sampson of the Ionet also put into Plymouth last night, but preferred to wait for daylight rather than risk the trip across the bay in the darkness and storm. The Ionet left Plymouth at 6 o'clock to-day. While off Gurnet, facing the gale, the boat started to leak, and the voyage was one fraught with danger, the crew constantly bailing to keep the craft afloat. Just as the little boat poked her nose inside of Boston Harbor the water reached the engine and stopped it. Then the Leader came along, and the boat was towed up to the wharf. The Ionet took eighty barrels of bloaters, but nearly half were thrown overboard to lighten the craft.

GIRL WIFE DEFENDS HUSBAND IN COURT

Mrs. Frank Monti, a fifteen-year-old Italian girl, of No. 68 Willow court, South Boston, acted as attorney for her husband in the Roxbury court, when he faced the charge of collecting junk without a license. The girl had all the gestures and vocabulary of an experienced lawyer, but her husband was fined $5, which Monti's stepfather-in-law, whose junk license he had been using, paid.

They Broke the Ice, in Spite of Mutual Friends

By KENNETT HARRIS

"I HAVE heard a great deal about you," said the young man, rather patronizingly. "I feel as if I were already quite an old—er—friend."

The girl looked at him languidly and then put the tip of her fan before her lips and grimaced slightly, as if she were trying to stifle a delicate yawn.

"That's very kind, indeed, of you," she said. "I've heard a great deal about you and I feel as if you were—exactly what I thought you would be."

"I hope I have been well spoken of," said the young man in a perfunctory way.

"That would be putting it very mildly, indeed," replied the girl. "It's been one long, sweet song of praise. They told me that you were perfectly lovely and so-o-o sweet tempered and so-o-o clever and so-o-o——"

"And so you inferred the exact opposite, and I fully met your expectations?" said the young man. "That's encouraging."

The girl opened her eyes a little. "How did you know that?" she asked.

"Because I'm so-o-o clever," he answered. "They told me that you were extremely amiable."

"And of course you believed it?" inquired the girl.

"Well, I am not uncharitable myself. I was quite willing to believe it. I had no reason to doubt it at the time.

One Sample Lapse in Politeness

"I am sure they said you were polite," said the girl.

"I really do try to be."

"But you lapse occasionally. I'm tempted to, sometimes. I am afraid that I was not very polite to Cousin Martha the last time she was telling me about your virtues. I asked her if they kept you in a glass case."

"They don't," said the young man. "I wouldn't stand for it. I like to have the privilege of throwing things now and then. I imagined you were wrapped in jeweller's cotton every night, and put to bed in a burglar-proof vault."

"That would be unnecessary, because I am perfectly well able to take care of myself," said the girl. "While we are on the subject—the interesting subject—they said that you were good looking."

"I don't think they were so far wrong there, really."

"And they said nothing about your conceit."

"It's so infinitesimal that it escaped their notice. They said you were a raving beauty."

"You don't think I am?" asked the girl, with a sudden smile that brought her white teeth, her dimples and the sparkle of her eyes into simultaneous action.

Concedes She Has Her Points

The young man considered her stolidly. "You have your points," he said at last. "I am bound to concede that."

"Thank you, so much."

"But, on the other hand, you have your defects."

"My nose isn't so large that it looks ridiculous, at least," said the girl.

"No, it's a very decent nose, as women's noses go," admitted the young man. "Possibly it has too much of a tendency to elevate itself. Do you really think my nose is too large?"

"Hideously large," replied the girl. "Of course, I wouldn't say so if you didn't ask me for my opinion, but I should call it a decidedly ugly nose. I suppose that is the reason you wear that stubby little mustache underneath it?"

"Do you think that makes it less striking?" asked the young man, a note of anxiety in his voice.

"It may mitigate the nose, but it has a horror of its own," replied the girl.

"I like it myself, and so do most persons of taste that I have known, but if I thought it made my nose seem smaller I would shave it," said the young man. "A nose like mine shows force, manly determination and sagacity. I wouldn't take an inch away from it. I hope you are mistaken. They inform me that your mental attainments were of a high order, and that you were accomplished and domestic."

Reports About Tact Exaggerated

"I suppose there is about as much foundation for that as for the reports of your tact. I believe you were about to tell me of some personal defects. Physical, you know, not mental."

"Was I?"

"I thought you were. You were good enough to mention that I had some."

"Of course, you have. Do you want to know what they are?"

"It would be awfully kind of you to tell me."

"Well, let me see. I think your mouth, in repose, is a trifle—just a little——"

"Yes?"

"A little too perfect in form. Faultily faultless, you know; but then as it is so seldom in repose—of course, I don't speak from an extended acquaintance."

"Do you think you are likely to?"

"Stranger things have happened. But to return to the defects; I'm afraid I can't tell you what they are. You have them, of course, and another girl might be able to see them and point them out; but now that I look at you closely, attentively——"

"A little too closely," said the girl. "I don't like to be stared at. Won't you please go and see if Cousin Martha isn't somewhere?"

Finally Get Things Started

"It isn't necessary. I can tell you that she is without going to see."

"Is that a specimen of the wit Martha said you had?"

"Look here," said the young man. "I don't think it's fair to hold me accountable for the things Martha or anybody else has been saying about me. If I were like that, I should simply loathe you. I did come very near it."

"Not to the extent that I loathed you," said the girl.

"Then you don't loathe me now?"

"Well," said the girl, judicially, "perhaps not loathe. I think you may not be altogether intolerable after one grows accustomed to your little crudities of speech and manner. Still, I don't speak from an extended acquaintance."

"I'll bet you a box of candy that you will, though," said the young man. "I guess that's good enough to start with."

Going, Going, Gone.

A PARK ROW auctioneer was begging the crowd for a bid. He pleaded for ten minutes, and then, in desperation, cried:

"For the Lord's sake, will no one give me a bid?"

A mild-spoken gentleman replied:

"Why, yes, old man, I'll try to help you out. I bid you good-night."

And the kindly disposed one departed, leaving the auctioneer to the tender mercies of a laughing crowd.

Striking Innovations in Sleeves Give the Woman with Pretty Arms a Chance

By MARIE MONTAIGNE

THE woman with a pretty arm no longer conceals its charming outlines in a full three-quarter sleeve finished by a long glove or lingerie cuff. The new sleeve is, in evening gowns, conspicuous by its absence, unless a shoulder strap or wisp of drapery or epaulette cap may be designated a sleeve.

For the street, she may clothe her arm in a long, snugly fitted sleeve, which often extends in one line from neck to the middle of the hand, or terminates upon the arm wherever the wearer pleases.

The newest mode for street and calling gowns is the long, closely fitted sleeve which comes well down upon the waist, and even extends over the back of the hand, like the horseshoe sleeves of some ten or twelve years ago.

Sleeves that fit smoothly into the armhole, and those which appear below, or form part of an armhole which is some distance below the one common to former styles of dress, are more fashionable than those which are sewed into armholes in the usual way, with some fullness at the top.

A problem which confronts many women this season is the necessity for making over the sleeves of gowns which have been built upon short-sleeve lines, and which must still do duty another season. Such sleeves may be ripped out and built in the newest mode, so that the gown acquires an air of having just come from the modiste's. Long, fitted pieces may be cut from the old sleeve and the seams of joining covered with trimming, with which many of the new sleeves are literally covered.

If the sleeve is of silk, satin or any thin material, it may be slashed and filled in with net, lace, puffings or tucks of chiffon, or satin of a different weave or pattern, or even a different color; or else the short sleeve may be lengthened by a deep fitted cuff, so patched as to appear one with the original sleeve.

It is smart to sew armlets of velvet or satin around a sleeve of diaphanous goods and to fasten the back of the armlets with loops, bows, buttons or small rosettes.

One of the most popular methods of making thin sleeves is to shirr them along the outer side, so that a full frill outlines the arm from the shoulder to waist; and another is to lay the sleeve in folds, or tucks. Both styles are easy to the amateur dressmaker, and both lend themselves to the elongation of a sleeve.

Braided sleeves are among the most beautiful of the new decorated sleeves, and these are braided all over, as well as in long lines down the back. Embroidery and spangles, as well as lace inserting and applique, are used in much the same fashion to make decorative lines to accentuate the length of elaborate sleeves.

Little frills which fill in the back seam from elbow to wrist serve the double purpose of looking pretty and of concealing the hooks that fasten the sleeve together. Buttons are employed for this object, as well as to decorate the borders of bands, folds and seams.

Indeed, buttons are among the most important of this season's trimmings, and with straps can be made to effectively ornament any style of sleeve. Braid ornaments that come in button form, as well as those with loops and olives, constitute handsome sleeve trimmings and are among the easiest to apply.

Sleeves that appear to form a single piece with a fitted Empire bolero or waist, and that cling to the upper arm and shoulder as closely to the elbow and wrist, are perfectly lovely upon a woman with a beautiful figure, but they may not safely be worn otherwise. Their chief beauty lies in the mold of the arm, rather than in any embroideries which decorate the material.

Bank Clerk Puzzle Stirs Postoffice

POSTAL Clerks and Puzzlers, who have joined forces in unravelling the Bank Clerks' Puzzle, are having a busy time. Postal clerks are quick-witted fellows who have to tackle all sorts of knotty problems in the course of a day's business, and as a matter of Departmental pride the puzzle must be thrashed out.

It seems that the designing bank clerk proffered a single United States banknote and said:

"Give me some one-cent stamps, three-quarters as many twos as ones, three-quarters as many fives as twos, and five eight-cent stamps for the balance of the money."

Can you tell the denomination of the bank note?

It is clear that in answering the question you must find a United States bill which admits of division into amounts proportionate with the different stamps ordered and leaving no remainder.

The usual one hundred puzzle books will be distributed among those sending best answers to "Puzzle Editor," in care of this paper.

NOT ALWAYS A SECRET.

"I suppose," said the bachelor, "that most husbands and wives have no secrets from each other?"

"Probably not," replied the married man, "with the possible exception of what they think of each other."

Cupid a Member of the Personal Liberty League

By DOROTHY DIX

A YOUNG man, who must be a genuine household angel, furnishes this department with the following schedule of his movements for a week:

Saturday afternoon—Attended a baseball game.

Saturday evening—Stayed at home.

Sunday morning—Went walking with father-in-law.

Sunday afternoon and evening—He and wife went to wife's aunt.

Monday evening—Went with wife and friends to see moving picture show.

Tuesday evening—Went with wife and friends to theatre.

Wednesday evening—Stayed at home, playing cards.

Thursday evening—Stayed at home.

Friday evening—Stayed at home.

Saturday afternoon—Saw a baseball game.

Saturday evening—Attended a political meeting with father-in-law.

Sunday morning—Stayed at home.

Sunday afternoon—Went to a baseball game.

Sunday evening—Stayed at home.

On this last occasion the writer stayed out half an hour later than his wife thought he should, whereupon, as soon as he arrived home, the lady poured out upon him a flood of criminations and reproaches, and my correspondent asks, in view of his previous good record, if this is right; if it is fair or just.

Ought to Thank Heaven for Him

It certainly is not. Instead of scolding him when he is a few minutes late, any woman who is the possessor of such a paragon husband as this ought to be down on her knees thanking heaven for her luck. If she had some husbands that come home at——. But that is another story.

The sad tale of this young man's domestic captivity—for it is captivity to be in bondage to one who calls time on you at every turn—is told here as a warning against the most dangerous snag in married life—that is, depriving the partner of your bosom of personal liberty.

We had a great deal of incompatibility of temper, and drunkenness, and violent temper, and unfaithfulness, and affinities, in the matrimonial snarls into which so many couples get themselves, but the true cause of the alienation of the affections of most husbands and wives that fall out is the fact that they could not bring themselves to accord each other any freedom.

It is the jailer on the hearthstone that is the real corespondent in nine divorce cases out of ten.

Of course, there are plenty of men who are domestic tyrants, who would keep their wives locked up in a room if they could, and whose wives never draw a single breath of freedom between the altar and the grave. Their lot is pitiful enough, goodness knows, and nobody has a right to blame a woman who is fenced in a barbed wire corral if she jumps over the bars; but the woman who has married a turnkey is not so unfortunate as the man who has.

Restraint Hardest for Men

In a way, women are like canary birds that have been bred and hatched in a cage. They are accustomed to the cramped quarters and confinement, and are reasonably happy in it.

A man, however, has been used to the free spread of his wings, and when he finds himself caged he beats himself against the wires until he dies, or else, the first time the door is left the least bit ajar, he escapes back to the old life.

It is a strange thing that women, to whom the winning and the keeping of love is the most important thing in this world, have never learned the first principle of it, and that is, that freedom is the very breath of love.

Cupid is a wildling that pines away and dies in fetters. Loose him, and nothing can drive him from your side. Bind him with chains, and he snaps them like pack threads and mocks you as he flees from you.

One of the things at which staid, sober, conscientious wives never weary at marveling is that the illicit relationships between men and women seem to be stronger than any bond that Church and State can forge, and that this meretricious love keeps its fire and thrill, its passion and poesy, long after married love has burned down to cinders and dust.

Why Affinities Are Lasting

The explanation is almost childishly simple, and it speaks little for the intelligence of married women that they do not take the tip thus offered. It is personal liberty. A man's mistress is not his jailer, and his wife generally is. And there you are, as Mr. James says.

Just the mere knowledge that they have got to go home precisely at 6 o'clock, or else there will be a row, makes millions of men stay out until 3 o'clock in the morning. If they knew that they could come home at any hour of the day or night they desired without a word being said, wild horses couldn't keep them from putting their keys in the latch just as the clock strikes 6 p. m.

Yet there are whole streets full of women in every city in the land who have never found it out.

"No man wants to have time called upon him. No man wants to feel that his wife is the person "higher up," to whom he has to give an account of his every moment, and to whom he has to offer an excuse for his every act.

Probably the beginning of the first deadly weariness with matrimony comes to most men when they are met with a wifely catechism, "Where have you been? What did you do? Whom did you meet? What did they say?"

The Wifely Obituary of Love

It isn't that the man has done anything that he desires to conceal. It is simply that his wife is arrogating to herself the right to police his comings and goings, and censor his friendships and acquaintanceships. She is affronting his personal liberty, and that is an unforgivable offence, even from our nearest and dearest.

The woman who meets her husband at the door—when he fails to show up at the hour she has appointed for him—with a curtain lecture is pronouncing the obituary of love. She is also doing the very best thing on earth to encourage the repetition of the offence, for she is making the freedom to do as he pleases stolen waters for her husband—and stolen waters are sweet.

Lock a man in his home, and he will break down the walls to get out. Leave the door wide open, and you cannot pry him away from his own fireside.

About each of us is a tiny green plot of personal liberty, marked with a very big "keep off the grass" sign; and an alien foot invades this at its peril.

His Ma Shies Her Castor Into the Ring, Seeking Fame and Money as a Poetess

THE picter on my slait to-day is Ma riteing a peece for the paiper. She is trying to win a prize of one hundred (100$) dollers for the best poem about luv. The paper sed that anybody cud enter this contest excep men & boys, & excep Missus Ella Wilcox beckaus she is a professhunal & has had too much experiens.

Pa laffed a lot wen Ma toald him she was going to try for the prize. Good work, old gurl, Pa sed, go in & get the munny. I need sum new shoes & a overcoat, sed Pa. Only doant start yure poem with anything about a Hart Bowed Down or My Hart Is Like a Thirsty Deer or anything about Harts, sed Pa. If you do, sed Pa, your pome will be a awful bust.

Leeve it to me, sed Ma, I will rite this pome without any aid from anybody in my fambly. I will rite this pome all by myself, sed Ma, & wen it is done I think it will be butiful, butiful, butiful. I doant care how butiful, butiful it is, sed Pa, so long as it brings home the bacon.

Wen Ma was riteing the pome Pa talked to me out in the other room. I used to rite pomes, Bobbie, sed Pa, & sum of them was rarely butiful, vary rarely indeed, sed Pa. I used to rite songs, too, & cleened up all kinds of coin.

This Picter on my Slait to-day is Ma riteing a peece for the paiper.

One Song Pa Rote Had a Big Sail

I rote a song called I Kissed Her in the Garden & She Hit Me With a Rake. It had a big sail, that song, sed Pa. I always remember the korus. The korus went like this:

I met her in the garden wen the moon was hanging low,
My hart was leeping up & down beekaus
  I luvd her so.
Next morning wen I woke I thought my hart & hed wud brake,
I kissed her in the garden & she hit me
  with a rake.

That song, Bobbie, sed Pa, was one of the finest bits of work wich I ever done. My person-ality was in every line, sed Pa, & every time they sang it at a cafe or palm garden thare was loud cries for the author & I was always thare, too, sed Pa, or at leest neerly always.

A other song I rote, sed Pa, was called The Shades of Night Is Falling But I Try to Keep My Feet. This song also went big, sed Pa. In fack, Pa sed, it sold for many yeers, but I never got the munny. One of them publishers got the munny & gaiv me the laff.

Jest then Ma came in the room ware Pa & me was, & sed Well, deer ones, I have rote my poem about luv, wich I hoap will win the hundred doller prize. This is the way it goes, sed Ma:

O luv of mine, each time I see
  The luv light in thy lovly eyes,
I luv to think that you & me
  Have went to Paradise.

I try to tell you how I feel
  The pashun of a luv sublime,
But not one moment can I steal,
  For you are talking all the time.

Well, sed Pa, isent thare moar of it? Is that the anser? Can't you stick on a cuppel of moar verses? sed Pa. What is the matter with you, are you lazy?

I knew you wuddent like the pome, sed Ma, & that is why I hated to read it to you. I like it all rite, sed Pa, but I doant think there is a hundred dollers worth of it. It ought to be longer. In fack, sed Pa, I think if I was to put on a cuppel of moar verses, then in my best style, we could cop the coin, sed Pa, & I certenly do want to see you git that prize, beckaus I need a new Benny & sum shirts, etc.

Let me tack on a cuppel of verses, please, sed Pa, & then the old pome will be all to the good. So Pa took a pencil & sum paiper & sat down & started to rite sum lines & wen he got done this is what he red:

O luv of mine, beefoar I die
  & journey to a wurld afar,
I'll tell you ware my remains shall be & ware my insurance paipers are.

Now, sed Pa, the pome is compleet & I think it ought to git the munny, at leest I hoap so, bekaus I want to buy some of them new fancy vests.

Now They're Waiting for Answer

So Pa & Ma sent the letter to the paiper & we dident git any anser yet but we are going to git a anser beefoar vary long, Pa says, & he toald the editur in the letter wich he sent with the pome to send the cash, beckaus if he got the check cashed at the grocer stoar the grocer wud want us to pay our bill.

NEW SCANDAL BARED IN THE CANAL ZONE

GRAFT, FAVORITISM AND IMMORALITY LAID TO UNITED STATES OFFICIALS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Revelations of alleged immorality, favoritism, graft and extravagant living, involving high Federal officials on the Isthmus of Panama, are made public by J. H. Collins, an inspector, who has just returned from the Canal Zone.

This same information was given to Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, with the result, Mr. Collins says, that Colonel Goethals began an investigation, which at first promised to revolutionize conditions on the Isthmus.

Colonel Goethals laid some of the evidence, Mr. Collins says, before William H. Taft, then Secretary of War, and as an immediate consequence two prominent officials were forced to resign.

Stopped the Probe.

Mr. Collins charges, however, that Colonel Goethals stopped the investigation as soon as it began to hit the friends of the chairman. He alleges that the probe was pushed only far enough to force the removal of men who stood in the way of the head of the commission.

Accordingly, the inspector took his fight to Luke E. Wright, Secretary of War. But as Secretary Wright promised no further investigation Mr. Collins yesterday asked the AMERICAN to place the whole matter before the public. He has made affidavit to the truth of his statements.

"I believe that popular indignation will be wrought up to such a pitch by this exposure," he said, "that the Army Department will be compelled to give the Isthmus a thorough cleaning."

Clique Rules the Zone.

Some of the most startling accusations which Mr. Collins brought before Secretary Wright are these:

That a clique now controls the canal zone by methods as despotic as those of the Governor-General of a Russian province.

That by means of spies it brings about the punishment of all employes that dare complain.

That in the case of Mr. Collins, though not charged with committing any offence, he was summarily arrested, condemned for "trespassing," and ordered off the zone. When he persisted in remaining he was attacked in public and threatened with death.

That some of the office-holders, whom this clique keeps in power, have been charged with grave offences that are never investigated. Instead these men have been promoted to positions of greater responsibility and higher salary.

That federal officials, at the expense of the Government, are indulging in luxuries far surpassing the most extravagant flights of the French.

That because of graft the laborers on the Isthmus go hungry—provisions that rightfully belong to them being transferred to the tables of officials.

MERCHANTS ALARMED OVER BROCKTON TROUBLE

BUSINESS MEN AND LABOR LEADERS SEEK SOLUTION OF DOUGLAS SHOP PROBLEM.

BROCKTON, Nov. 6.—All Brockton is fervently hoping that the differences between the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union and the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company may be adjusted.

The prospect of Brockton losing the big W. L. Douglas Shoe Company's plant, or any part of the work in that plant, is not regarded lightly.

The company has returned the union stamp to the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union. No contract or agreement now exists between the company and the union.

On top of this comes the statement that the Douglas concern has interested itself in organizing a new shoe concern in Springvale, Me., that the new concern has taken a five-year lease, and that the Douglas company will buy all its product.

It is the intention of the Douglas company, according to the accepted report, to have 300 pairs of its $3.50 shoes made daily at the Springvale factory. This, if carried out to the letter, might mean corresponding loss to the Brockton plant.

Uneasiness in City.

The trouble between the company and the union is long and complicated. Matters have now come to a dead stand between the two disputants.

And the city is worried.

Business men deplore the trouble. The merchants are alarmed. The Douglas weekly payroll, the largest in the city, is a fine source of revenue for the stores.

The employes, many of them with plans laid ahead for years, such as paying off mortgages on their homes and making similar investments from their wages, are even more worried, their jobs being possibly at stake.

Only yesterday afternoon 600 of the Douglas employes held a mass meeting in No. 1 factory of the Douglas plant to see if they could frame up some sort of a solution. They voted to appoint a committee to wait on the Joint Shoe Council regarding any possible settlement.

The city authorities are trying to arrive at some feasible settlement proposition without taking sides on the merits of the argument.

Mayor John S. Kent, asked what he thought of the matter, did not hesitate to admit he was concerned over the situation.

Mayor Seeks Solution.

He authorized the following statement:

"It has been in my mind for several days that perhaps it was time to have some third party, interested in Brockton and in the continuance of that great business, as well as in the workmen, attempt to bring the parties together without any idea of attempting to determine the right and wrong of the dispute between the parties. This third party might try to get them together in an effort to straighten out the tangle.

"We might see if, by each letting go a little, we can't relieve the strained relations.

"Each party is now keyed up to a tension. So far as dealing among themselves is concerned, they don't seem to be able to make progress.

"Ex-Governor Douglas and the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company have done more for Brockton than any other individual or concern.

"I recognize the good that has come to the city from the Boot and Shoe Workers' organization. It has, in my opinion, been a factor in our prosperity.

"That these two great interests should clash is unfortunate. That the citizens of Brockton, whether workingmen or business men, should do everything in their power to effect a settlement of the differences is of the utmost importance.

"In my mind a solution of the difficulty is offered by adoption by the labor unions of a standard price for labor for the different grades of shoe manufacturers here, a fair price list, such as is paid in the vicinity of Brockton, and which should be allowed to the Douglas Company or any other manufacturing concern."

Mayor Kent fully comprehends, too, the possibilities of difficulties between shoe manufacturers and shoe unions. He is a manufacturer himself. He is a member of the shoe-making firm of M. A. Packard & Co.

Have Interest in Homes.

Real estate dealers, banks and property owners realize that any abatement of the Douglas interests in Brockton would be serious to the city. The factory has employed from 3,100 to 3,500 employes when running full time.

The average of wages is high. The workmen are generally of a prudent disposition. This is shown, in one way, by the number who have invested in homes, paying part down and giving mortgages on the balances. The dwellings range from $1,000 to $5,000 in value. The savings and coöperative banks in the city hold many such mortgages. Any man who is paying off a mortgage on a home and looking forward to hammering away at it for the next few years knows what a cessation of the pay envelope means to the mortgage and to the mortgagee.

The Board of Trade, making effort to attract new business to the city, is now confronted with the problem of keeping what it already has. The board has a lively interest in the present Douglas issue. President Horace A. Poole of the Board of Trade says:

"The Board of Trade, as individual men and as citizens generally, is very much broken up over any possible departure of the Douglas work or any part of it.

"The Board is doing all it can to see if it can induce the Joint Shoe Council to grant the stamp and settle all the present troubles. It is too bad this matter happened.

"The Board of Trade has a regular meeting next Monday. I have already started a movement to have the Board appoint a committee to meet a committee of the unions to discuss the differences."

Labor Leader's Solution.

John P. Meade, former president of the Joint Shoe Council and local labor leader, says the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union expects the Douglas company to make some tender.

Mr. Meade was seen in his office at No. 70 Centre street, said:

"The situation is just this. The W. L. Douglas Shoe Company and the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union have evidently ceased relations with each other.

"The only development that might lead to a discussion of the differences would be an application of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company to the General Board of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union for use of the union stamp."

Meanwhile the Douglas Company is "standing pat," also.

Former Governor Douglas, head of the corporation, is not in the city, and has not been for about three weeks.

Will Not Make New Contract.

Meanwhile General Superintendent H. T. Drake of the company is in charge. The last statement from Mr. Drake was his communication on behalf of the Douglas Company to General President John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union last Saturday, notifying Mr. Tobin that the Douglas Company returned the union stamp.

In his letter, Mr. Drake said in part:

"As our contract made the decisions of the Massachusetts State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration final in all controversies arising between us, we had hoped that your union would conclude to recall its letters of March 26, 1908, by which you gave notice of the termination of the contract, since the State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation thereafter rendered decisions fully sustaining the position we had taken.

"We, of course, cannot assent to the demand which you made as a condition of a new contract that we should disregard the decisions of the State Board in our favor."

ACQUIT KING ON MURDER CHARGE

WORCESTER, Nov. 6.—A verdict of not guilty of murder in the second degree was returned late last night by a jury in the Superior Court in the case of Arthur L. King, who was charged with the murder of Ayd George Azeen, an Armenian pedler, at Clinton on October 21. King's counsel entered a plea of self-defence.

FULL TIME AT READVILLE

Beginning to-morrow morning the 1,800 machinists, boilermakers, blacksmiths, steamfitters and their helpers, and the men of the other crafts at the big locomotive department shops of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at Readville, will start in on full time work.

The notice was posted at the shops after the result of the national election was known. The men have been working on a five-day basis and during the Summer had but four days a week at times.

TAFT PLANS 10 DAYS' HUNTING

TAFT, Tex., Nov. 6.—It is reported at headquarters of the Taft ranch, situated near here, that W. H. Taft and his brother, Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, owners of the ranch, will arrive here the early part of December on a ten days' hunting expedition.

The ranch embraces 160,000 acres, and deer and other wild animals abound in the pastures. The most magnificent country home and hunting lodge in Texas is situated on the Taft ranch.

PRISON FOR UNEMPLOYED

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The city department has issued a statement outlining plans for caring for the indigent and unemployed expected to flock to the city with coming of Winter.

"While Chicago will take care of its own destitute unemployed," says the announcement, "warning is hereby given that those coming from other cities will be met with open arms and a welcome by the Bridwell (jail) only."

NOBLE ITALIAN TEACHER WINS FAIR DIVORCEE

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 6.—Ettore Romano Fontana, formerly of Washington, now of East Forty-third street, New York, is engaged to Mrs. Margaret Dulles-Irwin of Newport, whose divorcing of her husband after living with him less than three weeks, created a sensation.

Fontana is a very good looking Italian and a member of a noble Roman family, though without fortune or title. He has been teaching languages to rich Newporters. In this way he became close to Wall street financiers and made some money in steel.

Mrs. Irwin and her mother are known to all Newport. Early in the Newport season when Mrs. Irwin sprained her ankle Fontana was much in her company; driving about with her, helping her in and out of the carriage and making himself generally agreeable.

It was by teaching Mrs. Irwin Italian that he met her, as she wanted to learn that language with the view of spending the Winter in Naples. He employs the "companion" system—goes everywhere with the pupil at the pupil's expense (to dinner, theatre, etc.), constantly using the language taught.

In this way Mrs. Irwin found she could not do without Fontana.

WHOLE WORLD OF SPORTS COVERED FOR THE BOSTON AMERICAN BY ITS CORPS OF EXPERTS

BASEBALL MANAGERS ARE HARD TO FIND

BY SAM CRANE.

The apparent scarcity of managerial talent is becoming a very serious proposition for the owners of baseball clubs who have not secured their team leaders.

I believe that baseball managers are born to the business, not made. By a baseball manager I mean one who can select a team and handle it so as to get the best out of his players there is in them.

In these sordid days of the national game, where the old-time sentiment that once surrounded the sport has been superseded by the money end, business managers are necessary to get all the money that can be induced to go through the box office, and any man who can combine both the business capability and also the playing end of the game is a very rare specimen indeed. And one great trouble with certain club owners of late years has been that they have combined the two in one individual, and often with poor results from every angle.

Managers Are Scarce.

A real up-to-date manager should be untrammeled with the business end, but should be left free to pay his entire attention to his players.

Managers of the calibre of McGraw, Chance, Jennings, Jones and Clarke do not bob up only occasionally. They all have magnetic personalities and are born leaders of men. They are leaders because they have the good sense to study the characteristics of each individual player under them and to work on such politic lines as regards each individual as will construct a team that is a unit. It is the building up of a team that is half the battle. To get the players to work together as one is the first and main object, and after that is done then the manager can coach his men on the style of game he decides to adopt. But don't for a minute imagine that the systems of any two managers are alike. They may be similar in a way, but it is the object of the best managers to have something entirely different from the others. That is, to do the unexpected and keep the other fellows guessing. That was the one great, big secret of Manager McGraw's success the past season and of many other seasons.

McGraw has been critised as all managers are bound to be, the last one I remember being for putting Larry Doyle at bat in that last Chicago game with the bases full, in place of Matthewson, who had been stinging Brown hard all through the game. I had an argument with McGraw over that particular play in which Ned Hanlon joined, and I was soon convinced that McGraw did the proper caper. Doyle struck out but that did not alter the fact that McGraw was right.

There were many other games in which the Giants did not "lay the ball down" with a man on first and none down, but both McGraw and Hanlon showed me where McGraw was right. The argument became so hot that I began to think I knew hardly anything about the game.

Where McGraw Excels.

There is no stereotyped rule that McGraw follows during any game of ball, but there are many managers who do and that is the secret of their unsuccess. Still those latter will go on year after year having their teams play the same old style of machine ball for every particular play, never changing, not even if the play is headed off in time after time, and then wonder why they never can get a one, two, three team. Those kind of managers are way behind the times, but they, in their ignorance, never tumble nor wouldn't if a brick house fell on them, possibly they wouldn't either if the Singer Building dropped on them.

Very few club owners, if any, know enough about the game itself to buy a foul flag and be absolutely sure it was the article desired, and that is why managers can go along and four-flush year after year. I don't know of a single owner who is well versed in the technical points of baseball. Possibly Barney Dreyfuss knows more about the game itself than any of the owners, for he has made a study of it. I don't think, either, that Harry Pulliam or Ban Johnson are any too well versed on the points of the game.

M'GRAW HAS A BIG LIST OF PLAYERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—When Johnny McGraw announced a few days ago that he had forty-four players on his roster for next season he didn't mean that these men would start the season of 1909 with the Giants. The chances are that not more than about twenty-five of the forty-four will accompany the team to the South next Spring. But there will be more than twenty-four in that party, and this means that a lot of young material will be corraled before the Spring training starts, and all of this new material will not be made up of untried youngsters and minor league players.

McGraw says that the Giants next season will not be a two-pitcher team. There is a great deal of significance in this statement. True he banks a whole lot on Marquard, Durham and Crandall to help out Mathewson and Wiltse, but McGraw is too wise a manager to start a season with such a staff. He knows this from experience during the closing days of the 1908 pennant race. Just one more seasoned pitcher during the Cincinnati series last month would have landed the pennant for the Giants.

It can be stated with authority that next season the Giants will have at least one more seasoned pitcher to start with. The club had a very prosperous season, and is willing to spend $25,000 for classy pitchers. Who can tell but that deals are pending now.

There is another breach to fill in the ranks of the Giants before another season rolls by. A high class fielder and hitter is required. And maybe there will be two changes in the outfield. Seymour, while a good hitter, is not enough of an inside player to suit McGraw. Seymour is naturally a good hitter, but a classy pitcher has little trouble getting the best of him.

The catching department could stand a bit of strengthening. When Bresnahan was compelled to lay off during the closing days of the struggle Needham was the only man available, and he hardly filled the bill.

BOXING BITS OF NEWS

It is now up to Packy McFarland to beat Gans before he gets a chance at the title. Gans last week wired to Jeffries, saying that he was through with the game, but a nice, tempting offer will bring him back.

After taking in the sights along Broadway last night Packy McFarland and his crew left for Philadelphia. Packy will take no chances with his condition, and says when he hooks up with Murphy he will be at his best.

The match between Freddie Welsh and Abe Attell will be the candy for clever work. The Briton is the fastest boy of his weight in the lightweight division, and as the bout will go only fifteen rounds he has a chance to hand one to the featherweight champion. They fight on Thanksgiving afternoon at Jeff's club.

There will be boxing in Milwaukee after the election, says the Sheriff of the Cream City, but there are to be no more bouts for titles or bouts that will be extensively advertised. This, the Sheriff says, hurts the game.

Tom Murphy, the box manager, has Jim Barry, Maurice Sayers and George Herberts in Los Angeles with him. Murphy has not returned from a hunting expedition with Jeffries, who spends half of his time in the mountains.

Johnny Coulon is a grand little finish boxer and a ring general of no mean ability. He would be a terror for any 105-pound boy in a fight of ten rounds or more.

The scheduled fights at the Fairmount Club have all been put back a week. The Driscoll-Baldwin fight comes first, November 11; then Thomas and Sailor Burke on November 18, Owen Moran with Grover Hayes or some suitable opponent a week later.

Andy Walsh, the old-time welter, who has been working out with Willie Fitzgerald the past week, wants a chance with Sailor Burke. Andy thinks he can go some yet and Fitzgerald says he can still go some for six rounds.

Leach Cross was offered a match with Willie Moody or Young Erne by a Philadelphia club, but turned it down. Cross will rest up a few weeks before he starts in again.

Fighters rarely come back after being relegated to the second division, but ball players often come back into the limelight stronger than ever after a season or two in the minors.

Once a fighter hits the toboggan, he usually keeps a sliding until he is ready for the has-been class. Once he gets the punch that produces sleep, his career seems to be blighted.

Champion Battling Nelson is one chap who came back and won the highest honors after critics had counted him out for good. In his bout with Gans, the first one, Nelson took quite a beating and it was freely hinted that he would never recover from it.

BOTH 'TWINS' WIN BOUTS IN HALIFAX

HALIFAX, Nov. 6.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan of Boston was given the decision at the end of the tenth round over Jim Pendergast. The rounds were very fast and the bout was a slashing good one, both men mixing it good and hard. Pendergast had Jack going at times, while the "Twin" opened hard and fast, severely punishing Pendergast. The last round was a dandy, the men going the limit the entire time. Pendergast bled profusely from the nose and mouth, but otherwise was none the worse for the punishment.

Mike "Twin" Sullivan was given a decision over Young Mahoney in the eighth round of their bout, which followed. Mahoney took a coughing spell and vomiting. The two men were given a good fast mill until the eighth round, when Mike punished Mahoney, who gave up sick, retiring to his corner.

MORMON BIKE TEAM HERE FOR BIG RACE

Beginning to-day, the big six-day bike riders who are to participate in the long race at the Park Square Coliseum on November 16 will arrive in the Hub, as C. L. Hollister and Walter Demar, the Mormon team, are expected, as well as Elmer Collins, the star Lynn rider, who is going to team with Eddie Root, the boy who won the three Madison Square grinds, and this pair will bear close watching all through the local race.

The men will take to the road for a few days to harden up for the real test which comes later, but they will get on the board track next week and put in some serious work.

Manager McLean will have difficulty in keeping to the original program of having only twelve teams in the race, as so many star men are now in the ranks to be considered. But he will allow only the strongest combinations to enter, which will make it one of the most grueling events on record.

THREE AUTO SHOWS WILL BE HELD IN NEW YORK

By J. C. KERRISON.

Again this winter there will be three automobile shows in New York, two big ones and a lesser one. The exhibit of the independent manufacturers in the Grand Central Palace comes first, and a fortnight later comes the annual show of the licensed makers in Madison Square Garden. The former begins on New Year's eve, while the latter runs from January 16 to 23. During this entire period of three weeks there will be a show in the parlors on the Thirty-third street side of the Waldorf-Astoria, conducted by the American Locomotive Company, just as was the case last year. This company does not belong to either of the trade associations, but keeps itself, like its product, on a distinctive basis. The exhibit at the Waldorf had a remarkable interest last year and attracted a big attendance during two weeks, and is expected to have even a greater vogue this winter.

Interest in the small car race which precedes the Grand Prize at Savannah, Ga., on Thanksgiving, was greatly stimulated yesterday by the entry of a Gregoire car by Henri Neubauer, former American agent of the Delaunay-Belleville. The machine is to be driven by George Robertson, who has won this year the Vanderbilt Cup race, the big Founders' Week road event in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, and the last twenty-four-hour race at Brighton Beach. Robertson will have with him in the race Glen Ethridge, his regular mechanician. The Gregoire is known as one of the quietest-running racing voiturettes built in the world to-day. It has a four-cylinder motor rated at sixteen horsepower, with a 3 2-10-inch bore and a 5 2-10-inch stroke. It is very fast, and abroad is considered a wonderful creation.

Another entry was that of a third Chalmers-Detroit.

F. L. Smith has withdrawn the entry of the three Oldsmobiles. This decision on the part of the Oldsmobile was prompted by the fact that the cars that they intended to enter were of a new model and that the time was too short before they could be gotten ready.

The rumor that the Mercedes would not be present at Savannah were dispelled to-day by an announcement from Robert Fulton, the Mercedes importer, that he had received advices that not only two but probably three Mercedes were on their way to this country to compete in the big race.

SPORTING NEWS IN BRIEF.

FOOTBALL.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 6.—The Brown eleven is in fine shape for Yale at New Haven to-morrow. The first eleven played rings around the freshmen, scoring two touchdowns and a goal from field. Dennie is being used for the place kicking instead of Mayhew. Aspinwall will play fullback Saturday.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 6.—Yale lost three of her most valuable football players in a bunch: Naedele, right end; Kilpatrick, left end, and Wheaton, halfback. All were carried from the field, and this morning were in such a condition that Head Coach Bigelow and Trainer John Mack said that they saw no chance of their being able to get into the game again this season. Kilpatrick and Wheaton had not played ten minutes before their legs were twisted in a football pile and they were unable to rise. Naedele's similar experience soon followed.

THE Harvard management announces that the house for the Harvard-Carlisle game is sold out. There are no more tickets on sale.

AT the football mass meeting in Harvard Union the students sang and cheered the team and Captain Burr. Head Coach Haughton made a rousing speech, asking for the united support of the student body in the coming big games.

BOXING.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Claiming that his left shoulder went back on him, Hughey McGovern of Brooklyn, brother of "Terrible Teddy," quit in the fifth round of his fight with Teddy Maloney of this city at the Broadway A. C.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—Biting and finally kneeing his opponent, Adam Smith, the local light heavyweight fighter, succeeded in putting out "Dummy" Wall of Savannah, Ga., in one round and a half at the Pinks Athletic Club. Guilbeau, the referee, said he did not see the fouls.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 6.—Young Lepage of Pawtucket and Bat Cameron of Attleboro fought a six-round draw at the Standard A. C.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ROLLER polo results: At Fall River, Fall River 7, New Britain 3. At Bridgeport, Providence 6; Bridgeport, 2.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—Announcement was made that New Orleans would have three months of racing this season. Manager Jack Loyocano of the Louisiana Driving and Racing Association says no form of betting prohibited by the Locke bill would be tolerated. The races will start Thanksgiving Day.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—George T. Stallings, who owned and managed the Newark team of the Eastern League last season, is to be the next manager of the Highlanders. This was officially announced to-day by Frank J. Farrell, president of the New York American League club.

HARVARD and Tech cross country teams will have their annual race to-day. The start will be from Highland Station, Roslindale, at 3 p. m.

HARVARD'S shooting team will leave Cambridge this afternoon for the annual shoot with Yale at New Haven to-morrow.

IN the thirteenth game of the B Class amateur billiard tourney at the Hub Palace Nerraw won over Raffaele by the score of 200 to 184.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—For participating in ball games with the Logan Square Independent club in Chicago, in violation of the rules of the National baseball commission, nine players of the Chicago American League club have been placed on the ineligible list by a ruling promulgated by the commission. The players upon which the ruling is made are White, Atz, Donohue, Fiene, Smith, Altrock, Purtell, Owen and Roth.

JIM BARRY THE FAVORITE OVER FLYNN

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 6.—The Jim Barry-Jim Flynn battle of to-night before the Pacific Athletic Club at Naud Junction promises to be a warm one. There is much personal ill feeling between the two men, which makes the meeting in the nature of a grudge fight.

The first bet to be made on the contest was registered yesterday, with Barry a 10 to 9 favorite. There is little or no Flynn money in sight, and the probability is that the odds will go up on Barry.

BASEBALL NEWS AND NOTES

First baseman Freeman, of the Nationals, is playing ball on the Coast with Oakland.

Any time Comiskey has a player to sell Cantillon is pretty sure to get him. Frank Smith is all but a National.

There is such a boom in the teeth-pulling business at Detroit that Manager Dr. Casey, of Montreal, threatens to retire.

Pulliam's reelection as the president of the National League is assured. The vote of New York is alone doubtful.

Billy Gilbert knows the game from A to Z and ought to show well if given a chance to lead the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rumor has it that the poor showing of Pitcher Karger, of the Cardinals, has been due to failure to try. He wants to get away.

Strange that Garry Herrmann hasn't suggested Tommy Leach as manager for the Reds. He was hot on Tommy's trail last year.

Paskert, the Cleveland boy, stood third in hitting among the Reds with .243. He stole twenty-five bases, made ninety-six hits and scored forty runs.

Some one suggested the other day that Lobert, of Cincinnati, be traded for Chance, of Chicago. Sounds like a rather good joke.

Strunk, who looks like a comer for Connie Mack, although only nineteen, learned baseball at Shamokin from Lave Cross.

Kid Elberfeld has assured Christy Mathewson that he will take out about $50,000 insurance if he again manages the Highlanders.

New York Americans will have about six collegians on its team if Scout Irwin lands Pauxtis, the Penn star.

Bill Armour has certainly had his troubles as manager at Toledo. He has decided it's easier to handle money than players.

Report from Detroit says that a Tiger fan, in sorrow over the showing of the team in the big series, has gone crazy. One could hardly blame him.

During his career as a manager every team but one handled by John McCloskey, the retired manager of the Cardinals, has been a tailender.

HORSE NEWS TRACK GOSSIP

M. H. Reardon has put some of the Allen Winter money into a farm just outside Indianapolis. He will likely secure Ed Winter (2:12¾), the sire of Allen, to head his stud.

J. B. Richardson has Elizabeth S. (2:09¼), and after using her on the Speedway will raise a colt from her by his Bingen horse, Summance. Elizabeth will be a factor on the river road, for she can march as fast as her brother, Claymos (2:07¾).

A meeting will be held at the Murray Hill Hotel, New York, Wednesday, November 11, at which steps will be taken to organize a national association of horse shows. The representatives of horse shows or fairs that give horse shows, as well as all people interested in horse shows are invited to attend.

Walter Cox picked up one of the bargains of the day when he bought Branham Baughman (2:24½), in Kentucky. This handsome three-year-old raced a mile in 2:10 last month, and gives every indication of developing into a high-class racer. In many ways he resembles his near relative, George Gano.

Gus Macey has his old love, Country Jay (2:10½), back again, and will try and fix him up for a trip through the circuit next year.

Flirto, a sister to Jack Leyburn (2:04¼), is said to be a racer of great promise, having worked in 2:14¼ over a half mile track.

PACKY AND BAT SURE CHAMP MUD SLINGERS

BY TAD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Both Bat Nelson and Packy McFarland are sure enough champions in the mud slinging class. Their little wordy affair in the Evening Journal office was simply a peach.

* * *

James is sure the come-back kid. It was only a few months ago that Packy McFarland knocked him silly in five rounds out in Frisco. James went away from there and took a trip to the other side. We laughed at the idea of London sports falling for him and offering the "native son" a match. He was a foundered horse in the pugilistic stable over here, and we never thought he'd figure.

He boxed rings around Summers in their ten-round go and now it looks as though he will get another match.

He has done that come-back thing before, if you'll remember. He was knocked out by Battling Nelson in eighteen rounds at Colma and six months later took the Dane on again and outpointed him in a twenty-round whangfest when we thought he was through.

James then quit to Gans when he was being properly hided and lost to Packy McFarland in a few minutes. He was for the pugilistic morgue. Now he comes back and wins over Summers, a pretty nifty lad. Well, if James would only lose a few more now he might come back again and knock out both Nelson and McFarland.

We ought to be getting some real news from Australia about Burns and Johnson soon. The big colored fellow arrives there this week and then the news pots will begin to boil. Tommy Burns never sends anything but postal cards, so we can't expect much from there except the fake stuff used by some small writers who want to fill up space.

Jack Johnson is the first good man that Burns has met since his great fake fight with Jack O'Brien in Los Angeles.

Tommy beat a lot of rummies in England and then took on some more in Australia. In Johnson he meets a first-class boxer with a slam. Johnson knocked out Fitzsimmons in two rounds, Jim Flynn in half the distance they signed for, and all the other big fellows who had the courage to face him in the ring.

Unless Burns pays Johnson to let him stay we should see a good go. He framed up a go with O'Brien, but we hope that Sam Fitzpatrick will pass up the fake talk and make Burns fight honestly. Sam never had a word of fake mentioned about him, and let's hope he never will.

* * *

Robert Aloysius Keyes, who lost to Charley Griffin the other night, thinks that he's the hard-luck kid as far as losing goes. "Why, the only two fights that I've lost of late were fillers. Get that, fillers?

"Well, I took Murphy's place against McFarland up in Boston and lost the decision. Then with two days' notice I boxed Griffin at the National Club, and took a tumble there. Well, no more of those for me; when I start again I'll go to the post in shape."

* * *

Heiney Rafael, the 'Frisco manager, is still trying his best to get Ralph Rose, the big shotputter, to enter the ring. Rafael wanted to get Jim Jeffords or Jim Stewart for him; but Ralphie declared that he wanted to be a lawyer, and said that if he lost in the ring it would be a jinks for his first case. He went away.

Answers to correspondents:

No Leach Cross is not his real name. During an outdoor meet one day he took the name of Cross just as he was entering a cross country run. Leach is Jewish for Louis, hence Leach Cross. His proper name is Louis Wallach. He says he doesn't like Packy McFarland much.

Packy McFarland and Tommy Murphy are signed up to fight for the third time. They are scheduled to box at the National Club in Philadelphia on the 18th of November, if sickness does not prevent.

QUILL TRAINS HARD FOR BOUT WITH LOUGHREY

That Tommy Quill, the Brockton boy, intends to beat up Young Loughrey when he meets the tough Quaker again at the Armory A. A. on Tuesday night is certain by the way Tommy is training down at Montello.

Quill knows how to go about his work, as he had one big experience up against the best boy in Philadelphia, and will benefit, as the fans will see when they congregate around the ring on next Tuesday.

There will be really little difference in the weight, but as the articles do not call for any weighing in there will be no mental worry over that item. Each boy will be at his very best. Neither will be handicapped. Each has plenty and sufficient time to get right for this contest, and there can be no excuse offered on that score. This should ensure the contest to be even faster than their battle. That bout was the most interesting held here in years, and in fact old timers say it was even better than the exciting fifteen-round draw battle between Patsey Sweeney and George McFadden at the old Business Men's Club nine years ago. Last Tuesday's contest has everybody with sporting blood stirred up to a high pitch.

There is sure to be a big attendance. Reservations are pouring in. One coterie of members from Taunton will sit in a section of the amphitheatre and there will also be parties from Brockton, Stoughton, Holbrook, Avon, Whitman and Abington.

Interest in the show is not confined to the main bout, for the semi-final is sure to be just about as hot. Many think that Jerry Gains, he of the haymaker, is the one man to put an end to the onward and upward march of Bill McKinnon, but the Roxbury friends of Bill say that there is nothing to it.

COXE BUYS FILLIES.

A. B. Coxe of Paoli, Pa., owner of The Leading Lady (2:07), recently paid a visit to J. Howard Ford's Stony Farm, at Stony Ford, N. Y., and while there purchased two fillies by Austral. One is a brown miss out of Baroness Donerail, by Baron Wilkes (2:18), and the other is a bay out of Nola H., by Mambrino King. Mrs. Ford presented Mrs. Coxe with a gray colt by Austral, dam Onalta, by Orator (2:23).

To The Sloping Shouldered Men

The man who has difficulty in getting a coat that will fit at the neck and shoulders

Yearly, during the past five years, over twelve thousand men have visited this store, favoring me with their patronage. I have had the opportunity to study, at close range, those various types of physical build presented.

My observations have enabled me to create a system of measuring and cutting that will give the flat chested man a full chested effect—that will hide the corpulency of the stout man, etc.—effects that cannot be obtained save by cutting patterns to meet individual requirement.

To the sloping shouldered man I guarantee a coat that will come up properly on his collar—and stay there. I guarantee him a coat that will NOT bind him at the armscye, an effect created in the ordinary coat by a too short collar strap. I guarantee him an easy, well balanced coat with concave shoulders, to present an athletic appearance.

INDIANS HAVE STAR KICKER

Drop-kickers are the gridiron heroes this Fall. Balenti, the Carlisle Indian, entered the glory circle on Saturday by his four goals from placement against the Navy, and seems to be the best place kicker in the East. It is possible Thorpe, his teammate, can drop-kick goals from a greater distance than Balenti, but for accuracy the little quarterback seems to have something on the big halfback. In the West the sensational drop-kicker is Allerdice of Michigan, who got three field goals against Vanderbilt on Saturday. The Wolverine halfback made one of his goals from the 40-yard-line.

Two of Balenti's goals were from difficult angles and one was against a strong wind. His longest kick was from the 35-yard line. Balenti never was heard of until Carlisle played the Maroons in Chicago last Fall. Frank Mount Pleasant, who now is at Dickinson, then was unable to take his place in the Carlisle line-up and Balenti was rushed into action, doing splendid work. All this season Balenti has been the regular quarterback of the Carlisle team, but until Saturday he never had much chance to try for field goals. How many points the Indians would score in this manner if they had the wonderful Houser on the team as well as Thorpe and Balenti, is hard to figure. Undoubtedly records would be shattered.

Carlisle has turned out more good drop-kickers than any other eleven in the country. Frank Hudson was considered a wonder at booting the ball between the uprights until Jimmy Johnson appeared on the scene and made football followers forget Hudson. After Johnson there came Mount Pleasant, then Houser, then Thorpe and now Balenti. Other good drop and place kickers at Carlisle were Libby and Wheelock.

Princeton wishes it had the services of a good drop-kicker this season. Then, possibly, there would not have been three tie games to mar enjoyment of undergraduate life at Old Nassau. With Harlan in the line-up last season the Tigers always had some one who could be relied on to kick a field goal if a touchdown could not be made by straight football. Now things are different in the Jungle, and it's a case of rushing and forward passing, with no one on the eleven able to drop-kick field goals.

THE PARTY THAT IS DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF

The Democratic party is a house divided against itself. The division is nothing new, nothing recent. Men of observation have often mentioned it and passed their comments upon it.

Mr. Hearst, at the national conference of the Independence party, held February 22 in Chicago, remembered the fact in these words:

"There are Democrats who believe in free trade, and Democrats who believe in protection. There are trust Democrats and anti-trust Democrats. There are Democrats who believe in public ownership of public utilities, and Democrats who believe in private ownership of public officials. Of all the various parties which exist in the nation I have found that the two that are the most bitterly, the most utterly, the most uncompromisingly opposed to each other are the radical Democratic party and the conservative Democratic party. There is nothing that the one advocates that the other does not oppose; there is nothing that the one believes in that the other does not scornfully reject; there is no candidate who is sincerely in sympathy with the principles of the one who can hope to secure openly and honestly the support of the other."

This quotation from the Chicago address of Mr. Hearst tells the whole story. The proofs of the truth are abundant and not to be denied. They pass and repass before every eye in each campaign. They were apparent in 1896, in 1900, in 1904. They occurred with double emphasis in the campaign which just closed. The Kilkenny cats are the only simile which gives the picture of a present Democracy—tearing itself to pieces, eating itself up.

The two factions are hopelessly apart. There is no bringing them together. They are no more to be reconciled than are fire and water. It would seem as though the dearest ambition of one Democrat is to lead and feed another Democrat to defeat. It is civil war—war to the death.

What is the result?

The party is paralyzed. It negatives itself. Its usefulness stops—like an engine on centres. It hasn't enough strength left to make of itself a party of respectable opposition. The only solution is to adjourn it sine die.

A Few Things That Need Doing

They Will All Be Done in Time. The Thing Is to Work Hard and Hurry the Time

Copyright, 1908, by American-Journal-Examiner

We observed yesterday that the people had a good deal of work to do, and they might as well forget about politics for a few minutes and try to get some of the work done.

When we say that THE PEOPLE have work to do, we mean THE PEOPLE. We don't mean the so-called leaders, but the great body of the citizens themselves.

As the people think and work, so the nation grows and progresses. The leaders get the honors and the big salaries and the fireworks. THE PEOPLE DO THE WORK.

What are the things that the people should principally have in mind AND KEEP IN MIND? It is well to be systematic and to have a plan ahead.

First, in a country that could easily supply more than enough for all, we want all to have AT LEAST ENOUGH. Hungry children in a country capable of feeding a thousand millions, disgrace that country.

Women and children half clothed, and right beside them thousands of cloakmakers and garmentmakers of all sorts out of work more than half the time—that is a disgrace to common sense.

Children working their lives out in factories, and mills, and mines, while grown men are willing and anxious to work—that is a crime against the human race, and THAT will be put an end to.

Women working for small wages, compelled against their will to compete with men and reduce the wages of men, when they ought to be at home caring for children, leading normal and happy lives—that is a disgrace to civilization and to mankind.

The voting system that gives power in government to every drunkard and criminal and half-idiot that have remained out of the penitentiary, and that refuses the vote to all women, even the noblest—that is stupidity and savagery.

This country needs the influence of women's votes, and full equal suffrage for women is one of the tasks that ought to be quickly accomplished.

Another thing that ought to be constantly in the mind and in the heart of every decent man, is the question of providing for old age. Old people that have given their good work for the nation, AND OLD MOTHERS ESPECIALLY, should be guaranteed pensions and not grudgingly offered the poorhouse.

In the old slavery days a miserly slave owner, no longer caring to feed one of his old, twisted, wornout blacks, said to him:

"I am going to give you your freedom."

The slave replied: "Master, I don't want to be free. You've had my blood, you've had my flesh! now you've got to take care of my bones."

There is many an old man in this country, many an old woman, able to sympathize with that poor slave. The country takes the best work from the men and from the mothers, their vitality, their youth, their flesh and their blood, and when they are old it ought to take care of their bones at least.

The people of the country will see that it is done.

There is plenty of work for our people. Intelligent voting must control the big rascals that are a menace at the top. Kindness, justice, better education, more opportunity, must diminish crime at the bottom of the social scale.

There is no lack of a program. To our readers, looking into the future, we offer tentatively the following as things to be accomplished BY THE PEOPLE.

Abolition of child labor.

Pensions for the mothers that have given their very blood to the nation in making the children.

Pensions for the old that have labored faithfully, building up the nation's wealth, and find themselves abandoned in their age with none of that wealth.

Equal suffrage for women. The nation needs their moral influence in government. The man who would deny the vote to a woman reflects upon his own mother.

Better education for all children, food for the child's stomach, as well as for its brain, AT PUBLIC EXPENSE.

WHENEVER A CHILD IN THIS ENTIRE COUNTRY IS HUNGRY, AND THE FATHER NEGLECTS THE CHILD WILFULLY, WITHOUT THE EXCUSE OF POVERTY, HE IS A CRIMINAL AND SHOULD BE PUT IN JAIL.

If this nation, which can never plead poverty, neglects a hungry child wilfully, THE NATION IS A CRIMINAL.

There are many things to do, readers, and fortunately there are many years ahead in which to do them. Let us formulate plans, discuss them, stick to them, AND ACCOMPLISH THEM.

What Any Girl Can Do

No matter what her circumstances she can better herself in many ways if she will

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1908, by American-Journal-Examiner

HOWEVER limited may be a girl's opportunities in life, however poor she may be in worldly possessions, yet there are some things she can do to better herself from day to day and from year to year.

She can, first of all, do what she did the moment she began to live; she can breathe properly.

Deep, full breathing every day will be the means of increasing her supply of good, pure, red blood, and this blood will promote health, and produce color in the cheek and light in the eye. Five minutes given to deep breathing morning and night means five times an increase of health and beauty.

Then the poorest girl in the world can teach herself deportment. She can practice sitting and standing and walking with chest erect, the hips back and head on an even line with the spine.

Can Make Herself Desired

This will produce vitality, poise, grace and ease of deportment. It will give her self-possession; and when a girl has health, color, vitality, grace and self-possession, she may be sure that other desirable things will come into her life.

Supply creates a demand. If, without sacrificing a duty or a principle, we fit ourselves to occupy a better situation than one we find ourselves in, a better situation is sure to offer itself before long.

There is no such thing as being at a standstill. We are all going forward, or backward, every hour of our lives. We are more, or less, than we were last year at this time.

We may have less money, and we may be wearing older clothes; but at the same time we may have advanced to a higher mental and spiritual state and be far ahead of where we were.

We may have more money and finer apparel and at the same time be retrograding pitifully. So money has very little to do with our going forward or backward in life, when we come to analyze things.

Can Improve Her Mind

Any girl with an ordinary public school education can do something to improve her mind a little every day. She can read a page of some good book—a book of travel, or a book of history, or a book of essays—and she can think of what she has read, and by copying in a blank book a few sentences or lines which impress her, she can improve her knowledge of spelling and phrasing, so that she will acquire, after a year of such practice, a better education than many high school graduates possess.

Any librarian will advise an ambitious girl what books to read for self-culture.

To read a novel hurriedly, just for the sake of knowing "how it comes out," is only a waste of time and brain power. Good novels are worth reading, but they should leave something in the mind besides the story, or they are better left unread.

Can Attain Any Height

Any girl, however poor and alone in life, can teach herself the art of concentration; and that is the foundation of all that is great in the soul of man.

The first step in concentraiton is to listen with attention. Whatever is being said, either listen not at all, or listen with all the mind. And the next step is to finish whatever task is begun before another is commenced.

Do thoroughly the little tasks and duties, and the larger ones will be given.

Breathe, stand erect, listen, read, grow.

There are no heights you may not attain.

A Bank Director's Catechism

By Wex Jones

*Statement issued by Treasury Department: * * * Mr. Henry has prepared a list of twenty-nine searching questions to be put by examiners to each individual director of the national banks. * * **

1. Do you need the money?

2. Should the office boy of the bank's president ask for $250,000 on his note, how quick would you let him have it?

3. Do you go into blind pools with your eyes open.

4. Are you fully acquainted with the plan of buying a bank with its own money? Give instances and statistics.

5. Have you ever read the National Bank act, and if so, how many times did it make you laugh?

6. Do you understand the doctrine of "criminal intent," and its application when grand juries inquire into the use of funds for personal profit?

7. Have you ever been in the bank of which you are a director? If so, how do you explain this unprofessional conduct?

8. Did you ever look over the accounts and assets or the composition of the reserve, and did you ever overlook violations of the National Banking law? Answer no and yes.

9. Do you understand that the main object of a bank is to provide funds for the high officers of the institution? If not, why are you a director?

10. Do you get a fair share of the gravy?

11. How much has your bank subscribed for politics?

12-29. What do you think of these questions to a director? Answer in your own language.
